

ASI's Modern Slavery statement

Managing Director commentary

ASI Solutions Modern Slavery Statement demonstrates an ongoing commitment to our sustainability responsibility by continuing to improve our modern slavery action planning to mitigate modern slavery risks in our business.

This year's statement sets out the actions that ASI Solutions have performed throughout the year to demonstrate our commitment to upholding fundamental human rights and freedoms. ASI will not tolerate modern slavery in any of its forms within its supply chain or in any part of its business. We will not knowingly engage in or partner with external entities that engage in modern slavery.

Our policies and procedures in relation to Procurement, People, Culture, Diversity, and Corporate Responsibility will continue to underpin this commitment and enable us to be compliant with all applicable legislation, including the Australian Modern Slavery Act 2018.

Structure and governance

CORPORATE STRUCTURE

A major factor in our modern slavery strategy is our corporate governance and management oversight and evident by our policies and practices which our people are required to comply with. These policies and protocols help embed our anti-slavery in our company and ensure we carry our responsibilities to mitigate modern slavery in a consistent manner across our operations and supply chain. ASI has maintained ISO/IEC 27001:2022 accreditation, which will include mitigation of modern slavery risks. Our ISO9001 certification demonstrates our dedication to uphold ethical practices throughout our business operations.

We annually conduct a review and undertake updates of our major people policies to ensure ASI meets legal, statutory, and regulatory requirements.

ASI’s commitment

As a family-owned business, ASI prides itself on the reputation it has built within the IT Industry for over four decades. Our core values – own the outcome, get stuff done, win together and think boldly, reflect integrity and honesty. We support an open and inclusive workplace, where people can speak up freely and with confidence, disclose information in a confidential manner and feel supported without fear of reprimand.

ASI Values

We believe that our customers as well as our people should be treated with respect and dignity, and we expect our employees to behave ethically and responsibly in accordance with our company policies and to cultivate appropriate business behaviour across the organisation.

This statement outlines the steps we are taking to reflect a commitment to acting ethically and with integrity in all our business dealings and implementing measures to ensure that slavery and human trafficking does not occur in our internal processes and supply chain, as well as expect our suppliers to uphold high ethical standards including not engaging either directly or indirectly in illegal labour practices, or otherwise having some form of Modern Slavery present in their supply chain.

Consultation process

Our statement is crafted in consultation with key management across all entities under the ASI Solutions Group. We also engage senior leaders representing stakeholders from Procurement, People, Culture & Sustainability and the ASI Executive team.

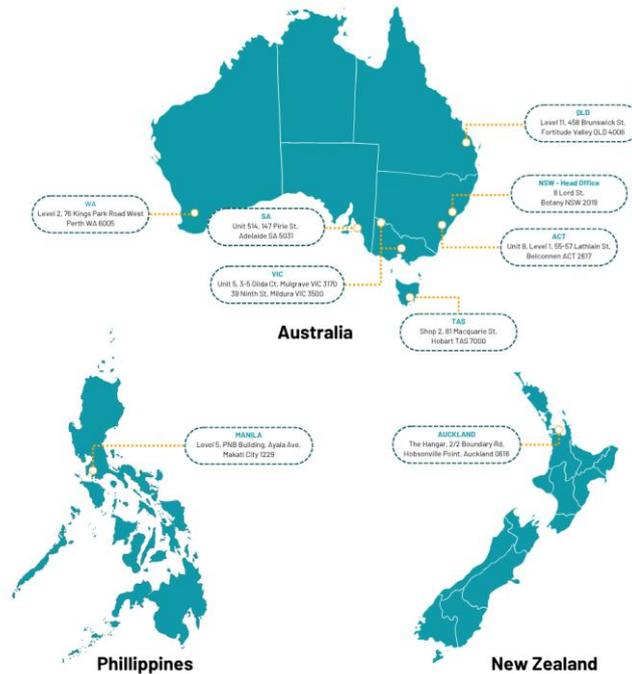

Operations

The following apply to all people and entities affiliated with ASI Solutions in any capacity, including all employees, Directors, agency workers, contractors, consultants, as well as suppliers and any other third-party representatives:

- Ensure all work is freely chosen
- Ensuring the prevention of illegal child labour
- Ensuring fair and equitable remuneration
- Ensuring compliance with all laws relating to wages, entitlements, superannuation, and benefits
- Ensure workers right to freedom of association, collective bargaining, peaceful assembly and the freedom of thought, religion opinion and expression.
- Ensuring and identification and addressing of modern slavery practices and the risk of modern slavery within our operations and supply chains.

ASI locations

ASI has approximately 190 employees across all business operations across Australia, New Zealand, and the Philippines. ASI offices are based across Australia and New Zealand, as well as in the Philippines are indicated below. ASI warehouses are located at the Head Office in Sydney with a secondary storage space in Mulgrave, Victoria.

ASI has outsourced operations based in Manila, Philippines via Business Processing Operators (BPOs). 13 employees provide ASI Services and Operational support.

ASI's supply chain

ASI Solutions regularly purchases goods and services that are required for its business operations. We work with around 30 suppliers in Australia, some of which are from the United Kingdom, China and Germany which provide us with IT Hardware and AV Equipment. These suppliers are engaged on a long-term basis, with most relationships spanning between 5 to 25+ years.

Our key product and capability offerings are the following:

- Hardware and Software Procurement
- Managed IT Service & 'As a Service' Models
- Professional Services
- Data & AI consultancy
- Productivity improvement.

Our customers are Australia and New Zealand private and public sector entities spanning the following industry sectors:

- Education (33%)
- Corporate / Enterprise (32%),
- Government and Health (26%), and
- Other Industry Sectors (9%).

Our people processes

Internally, our People, Culture & Sustainability team ensure all business units continually self-monitor to minimise the risk of modern slavery practices occurring within our own business operations. Executives consult with the People, Culture & Sustainability team and as necessary, provide updates on their respective anti-modern slavery efforts to the executive team during executive meetings. ASI's internal company policies and procedures are reviewed and updated regularly to reflect efforts being taken toward responsible supply chain and business operations management.

Equally, through best practice people practices, ASI ensures fair treatment of its direct employees as well as our outsourced employees by providing a workplace that is safe, inclusive, and diverse and promoting a work atmosphere where its people feel supported and respected, regardless of ethnic origin or background.

This is reflected across our people practices, from recruitment and onboarding through ongoing employment as well as processes around rewards and remuneration.

ASI continuously implements wellbeing measures, supporting all our employees across the organisation by:

- Quarterly engagement surveys to pulse check engagement and wellbeing factors.
- Hybrid work arrangements for our employees
- Access to varied learning and development initiatives
- Implementing Paid Parental Leave.

Risk management and continuous conformance

ASI will not knowingly do business with an external entity, either a vendor, supplier, or customer with the knowledge that some form of modern slavery exists within their supply chain.

New and existing suppliers will be required to disclose information regarding their employment practices and provide transparency around their actions towards eliminating the risk of modern slavery by way of a Supplier Self-Audit (Supplier Self-assessment Questionnaire - Annexure A).

We will manage modern slavery risks using a four-step methodology:

1. Risk Assessment: Identify risks of modern slavery within our supply chain and our secondary suppliers according to the following factors:

Category	Risk factor
Geographical location	Business operations or raw materials originating from <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • countries that are afflicted by war or conflict. • countries with a high incidence of corruption and weak regulation around labour standards
Vulnerable populations	Employing the following worker categories: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • migrant workers (individuals working across borders who have temporary or unofficial citizenship in their current location) • base skill workers
Supplier business models	Employing third-party labour hire companies resulting to diminished visibility and control over recruitment procedures
Reputational risk	If penalties or sanctions regarding modern slavery risk have been previously meted out to them.

A supplier will be deemed as substantial risk if they fall into any one of the risk factors mentioned above.

2. Due Diligence: Suppliers that are deemed as high risk will be asked to provide more comprehensive information on their operations and supply chain for us to understand whether they adhere to ASI policies as well as current relevant legislation against modern slavery.
3. Action planning: Take the necessary steps to address and/or any potential risks uncovered. These steps may involve further checks on the supplier’s legitimacy, level of compliance ability to manage labour rights.
4. Evaluation: Measure the effectiveness of the actions taken.

Non-conformance

Any breach of this statement will be taken seriously and will be dealt with in accordance with ASI’s Grievance Handling policy and Fair Work Australia.

As for the ASI supplier network, the Directors have adopted a zero-tolerance stance towards the supplier’s behaviour and explore options of preventing further engagement with the supplier or may decide to work with the supplier towards compliance with this statement.

Reporting concerns

If an ASI employee becomes aware of or suspects behaviour that constitutes modern slavery in connection with our business operations or supply chain, they are encouraged to report it immediately to a Director or to a member of the People, Culture & Sustainability Team. All matters will be investigated and dealt with in accordance with the ASI Grievance Handling policy.
