Introduction

SS&C Technologies Holdings, Inc. (SS&C) is a software company servicing the financial and health services industries headquartered in Windsor, Connecticut, USA. Globally, SS&C has over 27,000 employees across more than 100 locations in 40 countries, and over 20,000 clients. All nine of the reporting entities covered by this statement, hereafter referred to as SS&C AU, are controlled and owned by SS&C Technologies Holdings, Inc.

SS&C is dedicated to implementing and enforcing effective systems and controls to ensure modern slavery is not taking place anywhere in our own business, in any of our supply chains or through any other business relationship. This statement sets out our actions to identify and address the risks of modern slavery as they apply to our Australian entities.

Coverage

SS&C AU use the same policies and processes, operate in the same sector and have many shared suppliers across each of its reporting entities, unless explicitly stated otherwise in this document. This statement provides a single, consolidated description of the reporting entities actions to address modern slavery risks.

Company structure, operations and supply chains

SS&C AU has approximately 452 employees across several States and Territories, including Victoria, NSW, QLD and the ACT. Further details on each entity are provided in the table below.

SS&C AU's operations includes back-office administration services, sales and marketing of our products and services and financial and accounting software and related support services.

The main goods and services SS&C AU procure are labour and IT infrastructure. Our business relationships with our suppliers are generally stable - i.e. global suppliers widely used across all industries, as well as preferred supplier for Australian IT requirements, and long-standing business agreements with recruitment agencies.

Mandatory Reporting Criteria

Criterion 3 - Risks

We undertook risk assessments of modern slavery risks in our operations and supply chains over the reporting period to consider the risk that we are causing, contributing, or directly linked to modern slavery practices across SS&C AU. As we are principally a software and services business, employing staff in Australia is conducted in compliance with Australian employment law and therefore, no areas of vulnerability in our operations were found through the process to on board new employees into our business. With regards to our supply chains, focus has been on assessing modern slavery risks with our global suppliers, given the risk this poses across our global business. We used a number of factors to assess the potential risk of modern slavery with our global suppliers, including geographic risks from where we source the products and services, the sectors that our global suppliers operate in and the supply chain model involved.

Criterion 4 - Actions

We have implemented a modern slavery framework. This framework establishes our business processes in respect to modern slavery and human trafficking concerns; the framework also includes a policy on Modern Slavery to ensure staff are aware of reporting procedures if a case of modern slavery were to be identified.

Criterion 5 - Assessment

During this reporting period, our focus was to gain a better understanding of our modern slavery risks and how such risks may be present in our operations and supply chains. At this stage, we are unable to adequately assess the effectiveness of measures we have undertaken. However, we have commenced and will continue to work on developing our framework and processes to ensure we can review the effectiveness of the actions we are taking to assess and address modern slavery risks in our operations and supply chains.

Criterion 6 Entity Consultation

We consulted the relevant companies we own or control in the development of this statement.
