Modern Slavery Risks

The Trustee understands that modern slavery risk can occur in operations and supply chains. The Trustee considers risk assessment a critical process to identifying the inherent risk of modern slavery across the Trust. As Trustee, we conduct an annual risk assessment on all Trusts that meet the Modern Slavery Act reporting threshold. The risk assessment is done separately to Perpetual Group's corporate modern slavery risk assessment and is in addition to routine due diligence activities undertaken for management of the Trust.

Defining modern slavery risks

Modern slavery is serious exploitation that undermines a person's freedom. In a situation where modern slavery occurs, a person cannot refuse or leave due to threats, violence, coercion, abuse of power, or deception¹. Modern slavery occurs in a variety of forms, there are eight types including human trafficking, slavery, servitude, forced marriage, forced labour, debt bondage, deceptive recruiting for labour or services and the worst forms of child labour².

Modern slavery risk means the potential for the Trust to cause, contribute to, or be directly linked to modern slavery through their operation or supply chain. This means looking at risks to people rather than risk to the company (such as reputational or financial damage), although often these risks are connected. The Trust recognises that COVID-19, conflict and climate change has exacerbated modern slavery risks for people in vulnerable situations³.

Risk assessment methodology

It is possible that Perpetual, as Trustee, may be linked to modern slavery via the investments and suppliers within the Trust. In FY22, the Trustee collected information on PSPIB Wallaby Trust's supply chain and operations to include in a modern slavery risk assessment. Specifically, the Trustee investigated the investment trust and service providers that we have a direct relationship with. The investment trust and service providers were then assessed for inherent modern slavery risks and an inherent risk profile was determined for each entity. Inherent risk is the level of risk before any actions are taken to manage the risk's impact or likelihood.

Risk Assessment Results

Investments

The Trust's investment footprint is concentrated as all their assets are held in the underlying property funds. The FY22 risk assessment conducted by the Trustee revealed that this investment sector is considered to have higher inherent risk, as it is a part of the property and construction industries. The below information summarises the risks in this industry. The approach to due diligence and assessment is informed by this risk profile.

Investment Sector	Inherent Risk Profile
-------------------	-----------------------

Property and construction	The property and construction industries have a higher risk of modern slavery due to the high demand for low-skilled labour, limited visibility of long and complex supply chains and low-tier suppliers that operate in high-risk geographies ⁴ .

Supply Chain

The Trustee's FY22 risk assessment did not identify any high-risk service providers. The Trustee's FY22 risk assessment identified that all components of the Trust's supply chain are low risk. This is because, all service providers are professional service providers who operate in Australia.

Sector/Product	Inherent Risk Profile
----------------	-----------------------

Professional Services	There is low inherent risk of modern slavery risk in professional service providers, such as accountants and tax agents, located in Australia as these services providers tend to attract a higher skill level.

Actions to Address Modern Slavery Risks

It is impracticable for the Trust to address modern slavery risks in parts of its operations or supply chains in the same way that a company would. That is because the Trust has limited operations and supply chains, and has limited control over its investments. For example, the Trust does not make management decisions with respect to the underlying funds in which the Trust invests.

The Trust's approach to addressing modern slavery risks is as follows. Perpetual has a process for all trusts to follow for modern slavery reporting. This process includes;

- Engaging with investment managers to ensure they are aware of the modern slavery reporting obligations and seeking their input to Modern Slavery Statements;
- Training for our Trust Client Managers conducted by our Sustainability and Modern Slavery Manager; and
- Utilising a risk assessment tool to conduct a fit-for-purpose risk assessment for entities the Trust directly engages with.

As a trust within the PSPIB's PwC Investment Management portfolio, the Trust is subject to the following group wide modern slavery, and broader ESG, policies and controls.

The Investment Manager, PwC Australia, has submitted a Modern Slavery Statement ("PwC Statement"), as required under the Australian Modern Slavery Act 2018 since FY20. The PwC Statement outlines how it identifies, assesses and addresses modern slavery risks to people in their operations and supply chains.

PwC has prepared a 2022 Transparency Report and in FY22, PwC continued to take their ethical responsibilities seriously, and review and strengthen their approach to human rights issues across their operations and supply chains.

- Globally, PwC has been a signatory to the United Nations Global Compact since 2002 and prepares the UN Global Compact Communication on Progress on a global basis.
- PwC has set an expectation for the same level of integrity and business conduct from their suppliers as from their own people, as outlined in their Global Third-Party Code of Conduct. This includes expectations that their suppliers shall not engage in or support human trafficking or modern slavery, including forced, bonded or involuntary labour.
- PwC expects its suppliers to maintain working conditions that meet internationally declared human rights and standards.
- PwC's collaborative procurement practices enable them to be fair, responsible and sensitive to the needs of their stakeholders while encouraging suppliers to manage their own environmental performance.

Due Diligence

Risk assessment

The Trustee's annual risk assessment was conducted to assess PSPIB Wallaby Trust's inherent modern slavery risks. The results of the risk assessment are used to prevent, identify and address modern slavery risks that may exist within the Trust's supply chain.

Investments

PSPIB Wallaby Trust holds units in several property trusts, which are asset managed by Charter Hall and Goodman Group. They issue detailed and comprehensive annual Modern Slavery Statements and have established Modern Slavery Frameworks which set the organisations approaches to modern slavery. The FY22 annual statement can be found on the Australian Modern Slavery register here and covers all aspects of property development and management including the asset management supply chain, development supply chain and operation and corporate supply chains.

Supply Chain

The FY22 risk assessment did not identify any high-risk service providers

The Trust engages with suppliers and other entities on modern slavery by requesting Modern Slavery provisions to be included in service provider agreements.

Remediation

As a Trustee, Perpetual may be linked to modern slavery through our business relationships with other entities via their own investments and supply chains. It is unlikely that Perpetual in its role as Trustee will cause or contribute to modern slavery, however we could be linked to modern slavery via business relationship further down the investment or supply chain of the entities for which we are the Trustee. This could include an indirect supplier further down the supply chain that has employees within a low-skilled and temporary labour sector such as construction. This sector can have increased risk of exploitation if appropriate risk mitigation is not put in place. This is why we engage with the Investment Managers to understand their approach to managing modern slavery in their respective entities.

Perpetual Group's remediation approach is outlined in our Modern Slavery Framework. Should an incident of modern slavery occur in a Trust which we have 'caused or contributed' to, we would engage with the Investment Manager and act in accordance with our remediation principles.

The purpose of remediation is to ensure Perpetual takes reasonable steps to:

- Address the underlying root causes driving the modern slavery if possible;
- Prevent the modern slavery impact from re-occurring by collaborating, supporting remediation and monitoring the implementation of remedial measures taken by another party; and
- Ensure compliance with national and international labour and human rights standards.

Our remediation process has been approved by the Executive Committee and has been captured in our Modern Slavery Framework. The process details specific steps that we will take if Perpetual has 'caused or contributed' to modern slavery.

Our approach to remediation is led by a set of guiding principles. These include ensuring that our actions are in the best interest of the suspected victim or victims and responding in a way that is appropriate to the circumstances of the situation.

The principles also articulate that we will take steps to prevent further harm to achieve the best possible outcome for the victim or victims and consider whether there is any action that Perpetual can take that may address the underlying structural factors that have contributed to the exploitation.

Our Modern Slavery Framework, including the remediation process, is available to our employees on our intranet.

Grievance mechanism

Modern slavery is a form of reportable misconduct under Perpetual's Whistleblower Policy. Through this mechanism, employees can report any concerns to a Whistleblower Protection Officer within Perpetual or anonymously through our third-party whistle-blower hotline. Training on how to access and report through this mechanism are provided in our employee-wide modern slavery training program.

Measuring the Effectiveness of Actions

Outlined below is the key progress made by the Trustee on behalf of the Trust in FY22 and the actions for FY23.
