Risk Profile of HRAB's business operations

10. Hannover Re has recognised the core labour standards of the International Labour Organisation (ILO) for all staff. HRAB's staff are highly skilled and HRAB attaches the highest priority to compliance with applicable laws.
11. Having completed a risk analysis of its business operations, HRAB considers that its operations present minimal level of serious exploitation that defines modern slavery risk, given the nature of the business undertaken, the operating locations and the regulatory environment.

Risk Profile of HRAB's supply chain and third party business partners

12. As a service company, HRAB does not have a classic supply chain of raw and auxiliary materials. Nevertheless, HRAB purchases a wide range of goods and services.
13. HRAB undertakes a modern slavery risk assessment of its third party vendors.
14. Initially, the focus of HRAB's risk assessment has been on vendors who service HRAB's core business of reinsurance on an on-going basis.
15. As a continuous improvement step, HRAB further monitors the modern slavery risk assessment of all vendors.
16. The risk assessment involves HRAB identifying certain attributes of its business partners and applying a risk matrix in order to determine the business partner's perceived level of modern slavery risk as being either high, medium or low.
17. Annually HRAB reviews third party vendors who are identified as medium and high risk.
18. In cases where the vendor does not have their own Modern Slavery Statement, additional steps to combat modern slavery risk will be taken depending on the business partners' position and the internal assessment of modern slavery risk.

Further Steps

19. In addition to the steps outlined above, to address the risks of modern slavery occurring in our operations and supply chains:
 - a. HRAB delivers modern slavery information and training to HRAB's employees and consultants; and
 - b. HRAB reviews its third party vendor management processes to ensure HRAB communicates effectively to its business partners explaining our commitment to compliance with modern slavery laws and our corresponding expectations of our business partners.

- c. HRAB strives for a continuous improvement of the effectiveness of its procedures to mitigate modern slavery risk and recently introduced a comprehensive modern slavery testing for a sample of vendors with a medium to high modern slavery risk and an available modern slavery statement.
