III. Structure, Operations and Supply Chain

During the Reporting Period, Mort & Co's structure, operations and supply chain remained materially the same as detailed in previous Modern Slavery Statements.

Mort & Co operates an integrated vertical supply chain model which produces quality Australian beef through the careful control of each aspect of the business, including cattle procurement, backgrounding, transportation, farming, lot feeding, beef processing and marketing. The principal operations are conducted at Mort & Co's three feedlots: Grassdale (Dalby, QLD), Pinegrove (Millmerran, QLD) and Yarranbrook (Inglewood, QLD). With a combined capacity of 105,000 head, the business turns over more than 245,000 cattle annually.

In addition to the core enterprise, Mort & Co has heavily invested into the development of innovative complementary businesses, including meat exports, stockfeeds, farming & transport.

The major products and services which contribute to Mort & Co's own products include:

- Livestock – cattle sourced from graziers across the eastern states of Australia;
- Commodities (such as grain, hay, cotton seed, straw and liquids) – sourced both domestically and internationally;
- Logistics and Transport – supplied by both domestic trucking lines and international shipping and freight lines;
- Processing services – supplied by domestic entities; and
- Farming inputs (such as seed, herbicides, insecticides and fertiliser) – sourced from domestic suppliers.

Mort & Co's suppliers range from family-owned enterprises to international businesses, a majority of which are located in Australia.

IV. Risks of Modern Slavery

Mort & Co acknowledges that it operates within the agricultural sector which is generally recognised as containing an elevated risk of modern slavery practices, in particular:

- Sector Risks – the agriculture and livestock processing sectors have been identified as having a potentially elevated risk of modern slavery practices due to the labour practices associated with those sectors;
- Products and Services Risks – products such as livestock and commodities, and services such as livestock processing and logistics and transport, have been identified as having a potential link to modern slavery practices based on their location and/or labour practices; and
- Geographic Risks – commodities and shipping services have been identified as having a potential risk of modern slavery practices based on the jurisdiction in which they are procured from/provided in.

Given the above, and as per previous Modern Slavery Statements, Mort & Co remains of the view that the modern slavery risks within its operations are low based on indicators such as regulated and audited labour practices, the location of its operations and regulations placed on suppliers in sourcing their products.

V. Actions taken to assess and address the risks

Current Reporting Period

As a result of domestic labor shortages, particularly in rural settings in which Mort & Co operates, Mort & Co has an ever increasing reliance on PALM Scheme participants and skilled Visa 482 workers to fill critical operational roles. During this Reporting Period, Mort & Co has therefore focused on strengthening its oversight of these labour streams and enhancing the systems that support their safe, fair and responsible engagement. These actions have centred on improving how workers are onboarded, trained and integrated into the workplace, reinforcing cultural and wellbeing supports, and ensuring that employment conditions remain equitable and compliant with our obligations.

Future Reporting Periods

Mort & Co is committed to continually improving and, if appropriate, taking necessary action to mitigate identified risks or reports of modern slavery in its supply chain in upcoming reporting periods. Future actions which can help address risks related to modern slavery will be guided by the nature and level of risk identified at the time but may include staff training; developing and applying risk assessment tools for key suppliers; and formulating clear policies to set expectations and standards for suppliers.

VI. Assessing the effectiveness of actions taken

The effectiveness of the actions taken to assess and address the risks of Modern Slavery in Mort & Co's operations and supply chain is primarily achieved by monitoring and reviewing any reports of Modern Slavery under the Mort & Co Modern Slavery Policy. Over future reporting periods, the methods used to measure effectiveness will depend on the level and nature of risk identified through any reports, and may include:

- reviews of:
 - the appropriateness of the actions taken based on risks identified from time to time; and
 - any further actions which have been developed and deployed in response to risks/reports of Modern Slavery;
- tracking the deployed actions and reviewing key measurables such as the number of actions deployed, number of high risk suppliers and level of awareness among staff.

Assessing effectiveness on the basis of the risk-based approach outlined above will enable Mort & Co to evaluate how well its actions are addressing the identified risks and where adjustments may be beneficial over time.

VII. Consultation Process

Consultation has occurred with key managers within different divisions of the operations, however, Mort & Co and its controlled entities are treated as one for the purposes of corporate governance and compliance.
