Introduction

Modern slavery describes situations where coercion, threats or deception are used to exploit victims and undermine or deprive them of their freedom. This serious exploitation of people includes slavery, human trafficking, servitude, forced marriage, forced labour, debt bondage, deceptive recruiting for labour or services and the worst forms of child labour.

We recognise that modern slavery can be linked to other crimes and activities that adversely impact human rights, including bribery, corruption and environmental damage. We have a responsibility to respect human rights in our operations and activities as part of our responsible business conduct.

About us

At Export Finance Australia, we support Australian businesses – small and large – to grow and succeed on the global stage.

Our finance enables exporters and investors to secure global opportunities, expand into new markets and diversify their international presence.

As Australia's export credit agency (ECA), our role includes supporting the development of critical domestic industries and projects, from the transition to net zero to growing the critical minerals sector. Backing Australia's exporters, supply chain businesses and industries, contributes to Australia's economic growth and prosperity.

Our support also extends across the Indo-Pacific, including finance for high-quality, sustainable infrastructure in the region, particularly in clean energy. We help encourage Australian participation in overseas projects, often in collaboration with our international counterparts. We are also helping boost Australian investment in our region, with a focus on Southeast Asia, the Pacific and India.

Through this work, we contribute to a more stable and prosperous Indo-Pacific while advancing Australia's trade, investment and economic security objectives.

We believe that no one should take on the world alone. That's why we work closely with banks, other Government agencies, specialist investment vehicles (SIVs) and international partners to deliver tailored finance solutions and support businesses where other lenders may be unable to assist.

Our structure

We are a corporate Commonwealth entity with an independent Board responsible for managing our affairs, including determining our strategy, defining our risk appetite and monitoring our performance.

We are governed by the Export Finance and Insurance Corporation Act 1991 (Cth) (EFIC Act) and the Public Governance, Performance and Accountability Act 2013 (Cth) (PGPA Act).

Although we form part of the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade (DFAT) portfolio of agencies, we do not form part of any corporate group, nor do we own or control any other entities. Our responsible Ministers are the Minister for Trade and Tourism and Special Minister of State; and the Minister for Finance, Minister for Women, Minister for the Public Service and Minister for Government Services (as at 30 June 2025).

Our legal corporation name under our legislation is Export Finance and Insurance Corporation, also known as EFIC. We have legislative authority to operate under the name Export Finance Australia.

A breakdown of our governance structure, which is current as at 30 June 2025, is set out in Figure 1: Our governance structure.

Our remuneration strategy, structure and governance arrangements are detailed in our FY2025 Annual Report. As at 30 June 2025, we had 168 permanent full-time equivalent employees. Our workforce profile is set out in Figure 2: Workforce profiles 30 June 2025.

Our operations, supply chain and risks of modern slavery practices

We take a risk-based approach to modern slavery risk in our business operations, supply chain and customer relationships.

As we are an Australian-based entity and our primary operations of providing finance are office-based, we consider the risk of modern slavery occurring directly within our business operations to be low. However, we recognise that there is the risk of modern slavery occurring and being supported by us indirectly through our supply chain or via our customers and the transactions and projects we support.

In accordance with the United Nations Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights, we continue to prioritise our focus and actions on areas where we consider the potential impact of modern slavery to be greatest and where we might have a greater opportunity to influence outcomes.

Transactions

Our identification and assessment of modern slavery risk centres primarily on the financial transactions we support, rather than on Key Supplier Contracts (see following page). For context, the aggregate annual dollar value of our Key Supplier Contracts for FY2025 was equivalent to less than 1 per cent of the dollar value of our FY2025 transactional exposure. We have considered and contrasted the overall modern slavery risk profile of our customers and transactions with that of our supply chain.

The types of industries, jurisdictions and nature of our FY2025 Commercial Account (CA) and National Interest Account (NIA) transactional exposures reflect our role as a provider of financing solutions to support exporters and overseas infrastructure development. It also reflects the assistance we provide to other government entities. Our FY2025 CA and NIA exposures are set out in Figures 3 to 6.

As noted above, we have identified our customer relationships and the transactions and projects we support as a continued priority for our focus and actions in this space.

As set out in the section "Policies and procedures", our transaction due diligence typically includes an environmental and social review, screening and classification of the transaction, as well as compliance database and public records searches, for adverse media and reports relating to modern slavery and human rights concerning the key parties involved.

Commercial Account

Our total exposure under our Commercial Account as at 30 June 2025 was $2.24 billion which included loans, guarantees and bonds.

National Interest Account

Our total exposure under the NIA as at 30 June 2025 was $3.78 billion comprising domestic transactions in support of Government priorities, transactions in emerging markets and transactions to sovereign countries or their agencies.

Our largest exposures include Telstra PM Pty Ltd with US$1.7 billion (A$2.5 billion), PsiQuantum with US$125 million (A$190.8 million) and Iluka Resources with A$481.6 million.

Further information on our business is available in our FY2025 Annual Report.

Key Supplier Contracts

We consider our third-party contracts with suppliers valued at $100,000 or more (GST inclusive) which were still being performed during FY2025 or which were entered into during FY2025 (excluding lease arrangements and Commonwealth entity contracts) to be our Key Supplier Contracts. These are representative of our core supply chain categories, set out below in Figure 7: Supply chain categories by dollar value.

Most professional services, advisory, travel and ICT services are procured through pre-approved Commonwealth Government Panels. The Commonwealth Government’s platform for ICT services, the BuyICT platform, includes information prompts on modern slavery, including in the quote request. The Commonwealth Government Management Advisory Services Panel, assesses modern slavery risks as part of request for tender processes.

As a general observation, the nature of our Key Supplier Contracts tends to be more medium to long term rather than a large number of high turnover engagements. Around 34 per cent of our Key Supplier Contracts were entered into in FY2025, with the remainder being ongoing contracts entered into in prior financial years.

During FY2025, we continued to provide transparency for our Key Supplier Contracts by disclosing key details about them publicly on our website. We update this listing every six months.

In FY2025 there were 93 Key Supplier Contracts still being performed or entered into. Based on the value of these contracts, Australian-based suppliers comprised approximately 87 per cent, with the balance predominantly comprised of suppliers based in the UK, US, France, Ireland, and Singapore which are considered low risk jurisdictions.

The percentage by number of the Key Supplier Contracts rather than by value was similar, with Australian-based suppliers constituting approximately 85 per cent. A breakdown of these figures is set out in Figure 8: FY2025 Key supplier contract jurisdictions by dollar value and Figure 9: FY2025 Key supplier contract jurisdictions by number of contracts.

In addition to our Key Supplier Contracts, we have in place property lease arrangements and other arrangements under which we receive services.

In FY2025, these arrangements were relatively small in number and value compared to our Key Supplier Contracts. They were typically entered into with Australian-based entities, including Australian Commonwealth entities. For these reasons, we consider these arrangements and engagements generally as lower risk and therefore have not included these items within our Key Supplier Contract Analysis.

Our employees

We operate in a regulated environment and have policies and procedures around employment screening, employment conditions and appropriate workplace behaviour.

Our employees are encouraged to reflect on our culture and values when considering the spirit and letter of our policies and procedures, and to ask themselves:

- Is this the right thing to do?
- How can I be a voice of integrity, and set a good example for others?
- Will this produce the right outcome for us?
- Would I act differently if it were my own property, money, information or reputation at stake?

We regularly participate in external employee surveys that measure our workplace culture and behaviours. Our 2025 Great Place to Work results reinforce our strong commitment to creating an ethical, safe and inclusive workplace. This is evidenced by the approachable leadership, inclusive environment, and psychological healthy workplace questions gaining percentage scores in the 80s and 90s.

Addressing the risk of modern slavery

Our governance framework

We have a number of policies, procedures and practices that help us identify, address and mitigate the risk of modern slavery occurring. This includes within our business operations, supply chain and customer relationships (including the transactions and projects we support).

These are outlined in the following pages: Policies and procedures. Our Board reviews and approves key policies to ensure the ongoing effectiveness of our governance framework.

Modern slavery working group

As outlined in our FY2024 Modern Slavery Statement, we committed to establishing a dedicated working group to drive progress in this area. Over the past year, the group has met regularly bringing together representatives from key business and support teams to strengthen our approach to identifying and addressing modern slavery risks.

Our modern slavery working group has continued to strengthen our efforts to protect human rights and promote ethical practices across our operations and supply chains. Key milestones include:

- ongoing enhancements to risk management: we continued to review how we assess and manage modern slavery risks, especially in high-risk sectors and regions;
- policy updates: our Modern Slavery Policy was refreshed to reflect evolving standards and ensure stronger accountability; and
- education and awareness: we delivered targeted training to teams across the business, helping staff better understand and identify modern slavery risks.

Policies and procedures

Our policy / procedure	Description
Code of Conduct	Our Code of Conduct outlines the obligations and responsibilities of all our employees, including Executives and Board members in relation to standards of behaviour and conduct in performing their role.
Modern Slavery Policy	This policy sets out principles for our employees to follow in identifying and mitigating the risks of modern slavery occurring in our business operations, supply chain and customer relationships (including the transactions and projects we support). In FY2025, this policy was updated for approval by the Board in August 2025.
Anti-Bribery & Corruption Policy	Our Anti-Bribery & Corruption Policy sets out key employee obligations in deterring and preventing bribery and corruption. Our commitment to anti-corruption is further detailed on our website. In FY2025, this policy was updated for approval by the Board in August 2025.
Procurement and Contracts Governance Policy	This policy sets out how we procure goods and services and manage relationships with suppliers across the supply lifecycle, including in accordance with the core principles of the Commonwealth Procurement Rules (CPRs), as applicable. This policy also provides tools and guidance in relation to achieving the key objectives of the CPRs, those being value for money, encouraging competition amongst suppliers, ensuring accountability, transparency and integrity, and managing risk during the procurement and contract management lifecycle (Procure, Contract, Manage and Review).
Contract Risk Assessment	This is a risk assessment tool that includes questions that allow us to assess potential risks with a supplier, including any potential human rights or modern slavery risks. This assessment involves a two-step inherent risks and secondary risks assessment (the latter based on 'risk domains' which may be triggered depending on the particular engagement). The risk domains include physical security, anti-bribery and corruption, health and safety, environmental and sustainability, human rights and subcontractor risks.
Contract register	Our Procurement function maintains a centralised register of our Key Supplier Contracts. The contract register contains contracts Export Finance Australia has entered into with third-parties for the provision of goods and/or services.
Commonwealth Supplier Code of Conduct	The Commonwealth Supplier Code of Conduct is a statement of values that we expect our suppliers to comply with and to use to guide them in their responsibilities in relation to combatting modern slavery. It also clearly articulates that our suppliers must make all reasonable efforts to ensure that parties involved in their supply chain are not engaged in modern slavery. The Commonwealth Supplier Code of Conduct is published on our website.
Standard financing documentation	In FY2025, standard financing documentation contractual provisions were updated to ensure they remain appropriate and fit for purpose, and that our risk-based approach remains reasonable and proportionate in relation to management of modern slavery risks.
Standard form supply contracts	We use our standard form supply agreements where appropriate and as applicable. These standard form agreements include certain modern slavery-related representations from suppliers, which apply at the time of entering into the agreement and during the term. In FY2025 updates to the standard form supply agreement were finalised to include a reference to the revised Commonwealth Supplier Code of Conduct.
Policy and Procedure for Environmental and Social Review of Transactions	Our Environmental and Social Review of Transactions Policy and Procedure incorporate two globally recognised approaches, the Common Approaches and the Equator Principles (Global Approaches). Each of these Global Approaches recognize human rights as part of their principles and risk assessment framework. We voluntarily apply the Equator Principles to manage environmental and social (E&S) risk in projects. These global approaches apply only to certain kinds of transactions. As a matter of best practice, we extend the principles they embody to all our transactions (other than

Where a higher benchmarking standard is applicable to a particular transaction, we apply that higher standard. For transactions not directly related to a project, we may use other internationally recognised standards, host country standards or good international industry practice as the benchmark. The Australian regulatory system is robust and captures compliance with the relevant Performance Standards of the International Finance Corporation through the application of its regulatory approvals process. For this reason, where a transaction supports a project located within Australia and relevant Australian government approvals have been obtained, we consider that the environmental and social benchmark has generally been met. Each of our Global Approaches recognises human rights as part of their principles and risk assessment framework. These frameworks are accessible via our website.
Human Rights Statement	This statement considers our obligations to fulfill Australia's human rights obligations. We incorporate internationally recognised human rights relevant to our operations in accordance with the United Nations Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights. This statement is accessible via our website.
Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorism Financing Program and Transaction Risk Assessment	We have in place an Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorism Financing (AML/CTF) Program. Our AML/CTF Program takes a holistic financial crime compliance approach and is implemented through our Transaction Risk Assessment process, in accordance with our regulatory obligations. The Transaction Risk Assessment process includes: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - 'Know Your Customer' checks as part of our Customer Due Diligence process; - a broader assessment of transaction risks including money laundering, terrorism financing, sanctions, bribery, corruption, modern slavery and related reputation risks in relation to our customer and other key parties involved in the transaction as applicable; and - ongoing Customer Due Diligence and transaction monitoring. As part of the Transaction Risk Assessment process, we obtain anti-bribery disclosures from our customers and relevant parties as applicable, in accordance with our obligations under the OECD Council Recommendation on Bribery and Officially Supported Export Credits. These disclosures provide certifications about not having engaged, and not engaging in bribery, and cover the use of agents and commissions. Relevant parties making the disclosures are made aware of the Modern Slavery Act 2018 (Cth) and its requirements as well as the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises. In FY2025, we implemented further enhancements to our AML/CTF Program and Transaction Risk Assessment systems, tools and processes.
Incident and Issue Reporting Policy	This policy establishes an internal reporting process for employees to report issues and incidents that are not public interest disclosures and provides a framework for the investigation of these.
Work, Health and Safety	We have policies and procedures in place to ensure the health and safety of our employees is considered and managed. This includes our Health and Safety Management Arrangements, a Work, Health and Safety Risk Control Matrix, and a Hazard and Incident Reporting procedure adopted by the Work Health and Safety Committee.
Public Interest Disclosure Policy and Procedures	This policy and procedures provide mechanisms for 'public officials' as defined under the Public Interest Disclosure Act 2013 (Cth) (PID Act) to report conduct engaged in by an agency, public official or contracted service provider in connection with a Commonwealth contract that involves alleged wrongdoing or illegal or improper conduct.
Complaints Policy	Our Complaints Policy provides an avenue for our customers, suppliers, third parties or any member of the public to lodge a complaint with us. It also sets out how a complaint can be referred to the Commonwealth Ombudsman by a complainant.

Internal audit program	We have a supply agreement with a professional services provider for internal audit services under which relevant audits and reviews are completed against an audit plan which is endorsed by the Board Audit and Risk Committee and approved by the Board.
Risk & Compliance training	We have a mandatory induction and ongoing Risk & Compliance training program that our employees must complete annually, which incorporates training modules in accordance with our Compliance Plan for the relevant year. New starters are required to complete their Risk & Compliance training within two months of commencing employment. Risk & Compliance monitors completion rates which are also reported to the Executive in advance of the annual due date. In FY2025, this included a training module on modern slavery and a tailored training for all employees to raise awareness in managing modern slavery risks.
Law enforcement and regulator relationships	Where required, we share information with AUSTRAC, the Australian Federal Police and other relevant agencies and regulators in accordance with applicable laws and our policies and procedures, including where we suspect criminal activity has occurred or may occur.
External Engagement – OECD	We continued to work with the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) on key areas including in relation to anti-bribery and environmental and social matters. Export Finance Australia participated with other export credit agencies on anti-bribery measures under the Recommendation of the Council on Bribery and Officially Supported Export Credits. An Export Finance Australia representative is on the Australian National Contact Point (AusNCP) Board. This serves as an initiative to help raise awareness of the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises.

Continuous improvement

We plan to continue the following actions in FY2026 to further identify, mitigate and combat modern slavery risks:

Focus Area	Measure
Our Supply Chain
Procurement Risk Assessment	Continue to assess suppliers through our Contract Risk Assessment process. Supply Chain Transparency	Continue to provide transparency around our supply chain by publishing on our website (twice a year) a list of all supply contracts being performed or entered into within the previous 12 months with a value of $100,000 (GST inclusive) or more (Senate Order for Entity Contracts (Murray Motion)).
Procurement Framework and Processes	Bolster our procurement capability and consider enhancements to our procurement framework and processes. Increasing the usage of pre-approved Commonwealth Government Vendor Panels. These panels have been established by way of evaluating (amongst other criteria) the vendors' credentials and ability to provide goods and/or services in an ethical manner. We are continuing to understand the level of modern slavery assessment that the Commonwealth Government Vendor Panels conduct on vendors before a vendor is authorised to join the panel and on an ongoing basis.
Our Transactions
Transaction Risk Assessment	Having implemented new Transaction Risk Assessment systems, tools and processes in FY2024, in accordance with our risk-based approach we will continue to strengthen our assessment of broader transaction, industry and jurisdiction risks including in relation to modern slavery.

Environmental and social risk assessment	We support the efforts of DFAT's strategy 'Australia's international engagement strategy on human trafficking and modern slavery: Delivering in partnership'. The International Engagement Strategy provides a comprehensive and coordinated framework to inform Australia's international efforts to help eradicate human trafficking and modern slavery, with a focus on the Indo-Pacific region. Export Finance Australia will support the strategy through our own efforts to promote awareness and by taking effective action to identify and mitigate the risk of modern slavery. We will continue to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - focus on assessing potential human rights and modern slavery risks in our transactions as part of our E&S Policy; - undertake site visits including overseas; - report our Category A₃ projects in line with the OECD Recommendation of the Council on Common Approaches for Officially Supported Export Credits on our website and seek stakeholder feedback for projects outside Australia prior to a final decision to support a project; and
