Applicability

This Statement on Prevention of Modern Slavery is applicable to Tata Consultancy Services Limited and its wholly owned subsidiary companies (henceforth referred as TCS or Tata Consultancy Services) across the world. However, if any wholly owned subsidiary has published its own Statement on Prevention of Modern Slavery, the same shall override this Statement in respect of that subsidiary.

Introduction

TCS is an IT services, consulting and business solutions organization that has been partnering with many of the world's largest businesses in their transformational journeys for the last fifty years. TCS is part of the Tata group, a multinational conglomerate founded 150 years ago, led by inspiring leaders who have stayed true to the vision of the founder, Jamsetji Tata. His vision placed the greater good of society at par with business growth and pioneered social initiatives that changed the way responsible business was run. The Tata group philosophy of management has always been that corporate enterprises must be managed not merely in the interests of their owners, but equally in those of their employees, of the consumers of their products, of the local community and finally of the nation as a whole.

Modern Slavery is a term that is used to describe serious exploitation of people. It includes human trafficking, slavery, servitude, forced or compulsory labour, debt bondage, child labour, securing services by threat or deception, etc.

Acknowledging the prevalence of modern slavery across the globe, TCS is taking appropriate steps to prevent and address the concerns of modern slavery within its scope of business.

This statement sets out the steps that we, Tata Consultancy Services, have undertaken during the 2020-21 fiscal year that ended on the 31st of March 2021, to identify potential threats of modern slavery and to the best of our ability prevent the existence of modern slavery within our own operations and within local and global supply chains. With numerous suppliers across geographies, TCS takes a risk based approach to the same. References to modern slavery and human trafficking are based on the definitions set out in applicable regulations such as the UK Modern Slavery Act 2015, the Australia Modern Slavery Act, 2018 and guided by the UN Universal Declaration of Human Rights and the conventions of the International Labour Organisation (ILO), particularly relating to forced or compulsory labour.

Tata Code of Conduct

We are governed by the Tata Code of Conduct ('the Code') which represents the values and core principles that guide the conduct of every Tata business. Representatives of the entities in Australia have been involved in the preparation of this Statement on Prevention of Modern Slavery.

TCS entities in Australia have taken significant additional steps over and above global actions in 2020-21 to identify the areas of risk of modern slavery within its operations and within its supply chains.

- A Modern Slavery Committee has been set up for Australia consisting of representatives of various units and departments. The Committee convened meetings twice in 2020-21 to decide on its agenda, review progress and discuss review of Modern Slavery Statements of suppliers, following due diligence.
- A Modern Slavery Process Manual has been released for managing Modern Slavery compliance in the operations of TCS Australia and its supply chain.

TCS Australia Supply Chain:

- A Modern Slavery Supplier Self-Assessment Questionnaire (SAQ) has been designed, which is being sent to supply chain members. Further actions will be taken based on the analysis of responses received. Most suppliers in TCS Australia supply chain have long existing business relationship with TCS, and no existing data or information at hand has revealed any obvious risks of modern slavery. As a next step, it is proposed to have discussions with supply chain members for raising awareness and possible advice in implementing appropriate measures to ensure no incidents of modern slavery are present in their supply chains.
- Supplier contracts include a clause on supplier's responsibility towards prevention of modern slavery in compliance with the Act. Modern Slavery awareness and prevention is encouraged in all discussions concerning the engagement of new suppliers and in the management of existing suppliers.
- A web – based training pack has been designed and is being implemented to increase awareness among all employees across TCS Australia.

Audit of TCS Australia operations:

- Desk top audits/review covering in-depth assessment of recruitment practices, review of payroll and data sampling of personnel files were undertaken, and it was found that no evidence of modern slavery existed in any of the areas. TCS entities in Australia will continue with these reviews on a periodic basis.
- The activities for 2021-22 will continue to build on the activities being undertaken now. It is proposed to have more focus on governance, training and awareness building within the organization and in supply chain with workshops on modern slavery risk assessment, screening, due diligence, and remediation, with more emphasis on our Tier1 suppliers.

This Statement is also being submitted to the prescribed Authority in Australia.

6 Effectiveness of actions and residual risk

TCS is in the knowledge-based industry and its activities involve low risk of Modern Slavery. Our Code of Conduct, Policies and Procedures further addresses the risk of Modern Slavery. As regards to our supply chain, our engagement process with them and the Codes governing their appointment ensure that the risk of Modern Slavery is minimal.

To address any residual risk, TCS is continuously reviewing policies and procedures for improvement, and assessing the effectiveness of measures taken in this regard on an ongoing basis using the following key performance indicators:
