Modern Slavery Statement – Kinetic TCo Pty Ltd

1 Overview

An estimated 50 million people worldwide were living in situations of modern slavery on any given day, according to the latest Global Estimates of Modern Slavery. Modern slavery occurs in every country and takes place in serious forms of exploitation including human trafficking, forced labour and debt bondage/forced labour. Forced labour is the world's most widespread form of modern slavery, with an estimate of 27.6 million people affected in many countries including Australia. These abuses can occur in all industries and sectors, including the transportation industry.

Kinetic TCo Pty Ltd (ACN 601 251 067) (Kinetic TCo) and its subsidiaries (together, Kinetic or the Group) condemns modern slavery in all of its forms and supports the objectives of the Modern Slavery Act 2018 (the Act) of assisting the business community in Australia to take proactive actions to address modern slavery and help mitigate the risk of modern slavery practices in Australia.

The 2020 financial year marked the start of Kinetic's modern slavery due diligence journey. It was the first period in which Kinetic undertook mandatory reporting on modern slavery, in accordance with the Act.

Kinetic is pleased to highlight the progress made in its modern slavery risk assessment process during the 2024 calendar year, and the actions it has taken to further mature its response to modern slavery risk management in the 2024 Modern Slavery Statement.

This includes an enhanced supplier due diligence process supported by the procurement team, further enhancements to contractual terms with its suppliers to describe Kinetic's modern slavery obligations and expectations, and a shift from a reactive to a more proactive approach to modern slavery management.

Kinetic is committed to understanding this, as well as any other contributing factors that may impact the risk exposure of its supply chain.

5 How Kinetic addresses Modern Slavery Practices

As part of Kinetic's commitment to furthering the objectives of the Act, over the next 12 months, the Group will undertake modern slavery assessments of our major suppliers to identify those who may pose a potential risk of modern slavery practices.

Kinetic is committed to continually reviewing and updating its policies and procedures to ensure and maintain the appropriate safeguards against any risks of modern slavery within our supply chain or our business.

Our high risk suppliers may be subject to an audit as part of their ongoing obligations which may include team members of Kinetic undertaking site visits to our suppliers (including, where possible, site visits to our based manufacturers or major suppliers). When engaging with new suppliers, Kinetic has been looking to require suppliers to adhere to obligations under the Act and to comply with Kinetic's policies and procedures regarding modern slavery practices. This will include refining our procurement procedure to assist with elevate our identification of modern slavery risk assessment and practices of our suppliers.

Further, Kinetic will ensure that all high risk suppliers complete a Pre-Engagement Questionnaire annually and declare that they do not engage any modern slavery practices in their supply chains.

6 Kinetic's Key Areas of Action

In order to solidify our commitment to reducing the risk of modern slavery within our operations and supply chain, the Kinetic commits to undertaking the following activities:

- / Continually review Kinetic's supply chain to identify key areas of risk in relation to modern slavery
- / Routinely review and update all policies and procedures to ensure compliance with our obligations under the Modern Slavery Act
- / Continually review and update supplier contract templates to ensure all suppliers are aware of modern slavery legislation. The supplier contract templates specifically describe Kinetic's expectations surrounding modern slavery. Reciprocal commitment in relation to the following items seeks to ensure appropriate management of Kinetic's potential exposure to modern slavery risk associated with suppliers:
 - / Mutual commitment to compliance with all modern slavery laws
 - / Understanding reasonable steps to ensure there is no modern slavery in either party's supply chain, or elsewhere in its business
 - / Notification to the other party, should either party contravene modern slavery laws, and
 - / Implementation of due diligence procedures (including policies, procedures, investigations and systems as deemed necessary) in relation to each party's own supplier and subcontractors, to ensure there is no modern slavery in the supply chain or business operations of the party.
- / Conduct periodic supply chain assessments and audits
- / Provide training to all relevant Kinetic team members to ensure everyone staff are familiar and aware of how to identify modern slavery risks and under the requirements, and
- / Encourage team members to "speak up" if they are subject to, or become aware of, incidents of modern slavery through the Kinetic Whistleblowing Policy and internal communications.

Kinetic is committed to continually improving its position with respect to modern slavery policies and procedures. This is a testament to our values as a business, which is evident in our existing policies and
