PMY also utilises third party services to support our day-to-day operational needs such as external legal, marketing, cleaning, IT, and financial services.

RISKS OF MODERN SLAVERY

The supply chains supporting PMY are diverse in both category and location however, the risk of modern slavery activity in our direct business and supply chains has been assessed as low. PMY has close working relationships with our major suppliers and has high expectations for them to have robust processes, to match our own and ensure compliance with the relevant legislation.

OUR PROCESSES

PMY's commitment to identifying and eradicating modern slavery in its operations and supply chain is reflected in several policies and processes implemented by the group during the reporting period as outlined below.

a. Modern Slavery Policy

PMY implemented a modern slavery policy in 2023 whereby every employee or contractor of PMY must take all reasonable steps to ensure the business is not engaging in modern slavery practices. The policy has raised awareness of the existence of modern slavery in business practices and how to report and act on any observations of potential modern slavery operations. All new and existing employees are required to acknowledge and agree to abide by this policy.

b. Procurement Policy

PMY have a controlled procurement process which includes undertaking supplier due diligence including vendor risk assessment where suppliers are assessed against an internal criterion. A supplier prequalification form is required to be completed for all our major procurements. This includes checking for a modern slavery policy and statement where applicable. As part of this process, we have identified a shortlist of suppliers who we will not engage with as they do not meet our strict internal compliance and quality guidelines. This procurement process has been externally audited and successfully ISO certified in 2024 by Citation Group for the applicable Australian entities.

c. Global Code of Conduct

PMY has implemented a global code of conduct which outlines how our workforce approaches social issues including human rights. At PMY, we aim to only work with business partners and suppliers who embrace standards of behavior consistent with those of PMY. PMY has a zero tolerance policy against all forms of human trafficking, modern slavery and related activities.

d. Training and Awareness

All new employees are educated about the Modern Slavery Act and made aware of the important role they play in identifying signs of breaches of the Act within our operations and supply chain. Employees are actively encouraged to report concerns via our workforce participation and feedback platform and our whistleblowing policy.

EFFECTIVENESS OF OUR ACTIONS

PMY's Australian operations have an Integrated Management System (IMS), which integrates various management systems, policies, objectives, and processes, ensuring that we meet our goals effectively.

The IMS is independently audited on an annual basis with any identified areas of risks flagged to address and improve. The IMS acts as an efficient mechanism to monitor the effectiveness of our processes to reduce any risks in our supply chains, including modern slavery. As part of PMY's corporate governance process and objective for continuous improvement, our policies are continually updated and reviewed to ensure they remain relevant as we diversify and scale our operations.

We are looking to apply the learnings from our IMS system in Australia across our EMEA operations in 2025.
