2022 Modern Slavery Statement

2022 Modern Slavery Statement

1. Reporting entity

This Modern Slavery Statement ('Statement') is made on behalf of Xpansiv Limited pursuant to section 54 (Transparency in Supply Chains) of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 (UK) and s 16 of the Modern Slavery Act 2018 (Cth). This statement relates to the reporting period commencing 01 January 2022 and ending 31 December 2022 (the 'Reporting Period').

2. Organisation structure and supply chains

Xpansiv Limited (ACN: 610 645 148) ('Xpansiv') is an unlisted public company incorporated in Australia. Xpansiv wholly owns and controls a number of subsidiary companies, which are incorporated variously in Australia, the United States of America, the United Kingdom and Canada. Xpansiv's registered address is Level 13, 20 Bridge Street, Sydney NSW 2000.

Our company's values and mission are informed by environmental, social and governance considerations. Whilst Xpansiv is not aware of any modern slavery in its operations or supply chains, we endeavour to take a continuous improvement approach to ensuring the risk of slavery in our operations and supply chains are minimised to the greatest possible extent.

Our operations

Formed in 2019 through the merger of CBL (founded 2009) and Xpansiv (founded 2016), at the end of 2021, Xpansiv had employees and offices in Sydney, New York, San Francisco, Seattle, Houston, Vancouver, London, Milan, and Bendigo.

Xpansiv is the global market infrastructure for registering, managing, trading, settling, retiring, analysing, and reporting an infinite array of data-driven environmental commodities in an intuitive, user-friendly environment.

We provide tools and information to more accurately value agriculture, energy, and materials; we're unleashing the power of global markets to deliver a world worthy of future generations.

Our supply chains

During our reporting period we engaged suppliers from a number of industries, primarily:

- IT infrastructure, equipment, software and consulting services
- Financial services, including banking and insurance
- Professional services
- Lease of office premises

- Facilities management services, including security and cleaning
- Kitchen supplies and food and beverage supplies
- Office supplies, such as pens, paper, notebooks and folders
- Furniture, such as desks, chairs and filing cabinets
- Travel and hospitality
- Media, marketing, promotional materials and merchandise
- Utilities
- Telecommunication
- Postal services

3. Risk assessment and management

We believe that the risks of modern slavery are very low for the operations and supply chains within our direct control. Our employees work in office-based roles and are remunerated competitively. Our employment contracts and workplace policies are carefully developed to maximise employee wellbeing and ensure compliance with the employment laws of wherever we operate. Furthermore, the countries in which we operate have a very low prevalence of modern slavery according to the Global Slavery Index.

We recognise that there may be a risk of modern slavery in some of the operations and supply chains which we do not have direct control or management over. For example, we have limited visibility over the risk of modern slavery when acquiring office supplies, kitchen supplies, furniture, or food.

4. Due diligence processes

Our Risk, Legal and Human Resources departments, in co-ordination with senior management, take reasonable precautions to avoid complicity in modern slavery practices. As part of the due diligence process, where appropriate (e.g., where a supplier operates in an industry or country vulnerable to modern slavery), we may request additional information and assurances relating to the third-party provider's business operations and supply chain. Our standard form supply agreements also require vendors to comply with all local and international laws.

5. Policies in relation to slavery and human trafficking

We minimise the risk of modern slavery in our operations by constantly striving to maximise employee wellbeing and ensuring adherence to all relevant employment laws. Our workplace policies serve to mitigate the risks of modern slavery in our operations by creating a respectful and cordial work environment.

These policies include, but are not limited, to:

- Our Code of Conduct which addresses bullying, harassment, discrimination, equal employment, and grievance handling
- Our Anti-Bribery and Corruption Policy
- Our Whistle-Blower Policy

Xpansiv takes a risk-based approach to managing modern slavery and human trafficking in its use of third-party providers and vendors. Third-party providers and vendors are engaged in accordance with our Third-Party Risk Management Policy and Procedures which requires the vetting of providers. In addition, we conduct periodic risk and performance analysis of our active third-party providers and vendors. Given the nature of our business, we consider our third parties to have a low risk of modern slavery.

We also minimise risks in other ways, such as by exercising care in respect of our cost requirements and delivery timeframes to ensure our suppliers are not unduly pressured to cut costs on labour or rapidly increase their workforce. We also address indicators of modern slavery by remaining alert to any observable signs of modern slavery which might occur in the supply chains which we readily observe (e.g., our cleaning services). Consistent with our policies, we expect our employees to report any such signs to our management immediately.

Our appreciation of the risks of modern slavery and the importance of mitigating the risk of its occurrence in our supply chains and operations continued to evolve during the Reporting Period. We are firmly committed to a continuous improvement approach so that our policies and procedures improve in their ability to alleviate the risks of modern slavery.

6. Key performance indicators to measure effectiveness of steps being taken

Xpansiv is in the process of assessing the effectiveness of its policies and practices in relation to combatting modern slavery. As part of our continuous improvement approach, we look forward to implementing comprehensive tools and methodologies which will allow us to report on the effectiveness of our actions precisely.

7. Training on modern slavery and trafficking

Our mandatory workplace training includes training all employees in respect of the workplace policies previously outlined. This promotes compliance and awareness of all workplace policies which address the risk of modern slavery and trafficking.

8. Process of consultation with entities the reporting entity owns or controls

This Statement was developed by Xpansiv in consultation with each of its wholly owned subsidiaries, all of whom are subject to our policies, procedures, and systems. We routinely liaise and share information and resources with our corporate group.
