MODERN SLAVERY RISKS

‘Modern slavery’ describes situations of serious exploitation in Australia or abroad such as human, slavery, servitude, forced marriage, forced labour, debt bondage, deceptive recruiting for labour or services, and the worst forms of child labour. It does not include substandard working conditions or underpayment of workers. These practices are also illegal and harmful and may be present in situations of modern slavery.

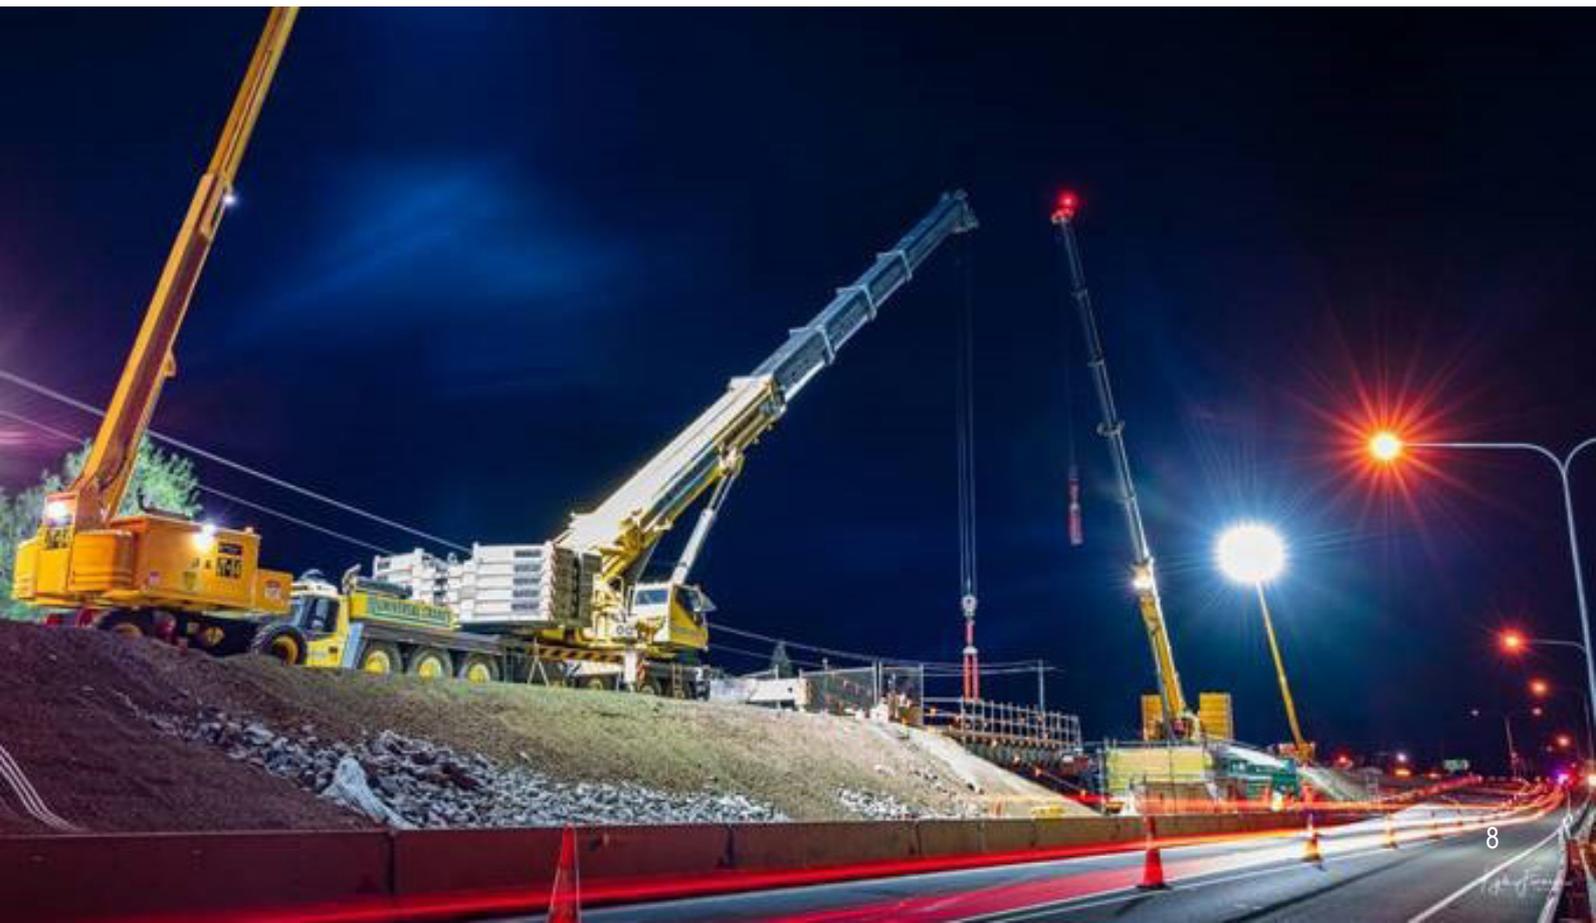

The United Nations Guiding Principles of Business and Human Rights 2011 underpins the core principles of the Modern Slavery Act 2018 (Cth).

SEE Group places respect for Human Rights at the forefront of its operations and supply chains and aims to embed practices that support these principles throughout the business. Consequently, SEE Group endeavours to engage suppliers with similar ethics, values and practices pertaining to human rights.

SEE Group considers identifying Modern Slavery risks and practices of paramount importance to maintain safe, lawful and ethical business operations.

The risks associated to various suppliers is specific to the type of supply being engaged and many factors contribute to this e.g location, type of supplier, company size.

SEE Group has assessed the risk of modern slavery within the Group’s operations as low impact. SEE has a comprehensive system of checks and procedures to ensure compliance with all legislative requirement across the work force and suppliers it engages with.

ASSESSING EFFECTIVENESS

- SEE Group actively engages with its suppliers to determine whether they are compliant with our standards. If an area of concern is identified with a supplier, we proactively engage in positive dialogue in order to remedy any failure of our policies and Code of Conduct.
- SEE Group's actions of an comprehensive onboarding process and contractual terms requiring suppliers to comply with legislative obligations including those relevant to eliminating modern slavery and SEE's policies and procedures appear to have been effective in minimising the risk of modern slavery within the main areas of SEE Group's direct supply chain.
- Responsibility for assessing and addressing modern slavery risks has been assigned to the Audit and Risk Committee.
- The Group's modern slavery risk management approach will be approved annually and by the Board of Directors.

CONSULTATION WITH SEE GROUP ENTITIES

SEE Group recognises that each entity has a role to play in addressing modern slavery risks. This Statement has been prepared in consultation with each entity and has been approved by SEE Group's board. The process of consultation involved engagement with the Group's Executive Leadership Team and input from the various relevant internal stakeholder groups (including Finance, Commercial and Legal and People and Culture).
