Risks of modern slavery practices in operations and supply chains

IDENTIFICATION, ASSESSMENT AND MITIGATION OF MODERN SLAVERY RISKS

Austral assesses the risk of modern slavery in its supplier supply chain and the requirement to be vigilant in identifying where there is the potential to cause, contribute to, or be directly linked to modern slavery activities.

OPERATIONAL AND SUPPLY CHAIN RISKS

The locations of Austral's mining operations are not considered to be high risk for modern slavery, with the most relevant areas for human rights within our operations being personal protective equipment (PPE), labour conditions, and the rights of surrounding communities. We understand that companies can inadvertently elevate the risk of human exploitation by placing unreasonable demands on suppliers. This is considered when engaging with suppliers.

RISKS IN OUR OPERATIONS

We have a global footprint with operations and offices across the world. As we conduct business activities in countries that have a heightened potential for modern slavery and adverse human rights impacts, a preliminary risk assessment was conducted identifying the following areas of risk:

Operational risk type	FY2020 risk profile
Operations and/or offices in countries with increased human rights risks	None. Primarily operate in Chile and Argentina
Equity Investments in entities operating in countries with increased human rights risks	We have three equity investments globally, however the entities we have investments in are located in low-risk countries
Exploration earn-in agreements	Option agreements in Chile and Argentina
Customers operating in countries with increased human rights risks	Due to the nature of our product, we already have a significant risk assessment and screening process in place for customers as part of mitigating actions to address material risks. We will review to determine whether modern slavery risks are adequately covered by existing risk management processes with our three customers of which two are in the US and one is in Switzerland

Actions taken by Austral any entities that Austral owns or controls to assess and address these risks, including due diligence and remediation processes.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

The Board has ultimate oversight of legislative compliance for the Austral Group.

We comply with the ASX Corporate Governance Council's Corporate Governance Principles and Recommendations (4th Edition) unless disclosed otherwise. Our full Corporate Governance Statement is available on our website at <https://www.australgold.com/corporate-governance-statement/>

Code of Conduct

Our code of conduct applies to Austral Gold directors, officers, employees, contractors, suppliers and consultants.

Our Code is shaped around our values including our commitment to Respect and value for all. We expect individuals and entities to which Our Code applies to ensure they:

- respect the rights of others
- uphold human rights at work
- work with and support our communities
- Our policies are available on our website at <http://www.australgold.com/policies/>

Whistleblower policy

- Provides information and assistance to whistleblowers or people considering reporting
- Reviews and provides advice to investigators on how to implement practical steps to protect whistleblowers from detriment, and
- Escalates matters appropriate to the Board

Strengthening Supplier Contracts

One of the ways in which we articulate our human rights expectations and control the potential risk of modern slavery arising in our supply chain is through our contracting process with our suppliers. We plan to implement modern slavery specific provisions in our procurement contracts and vendor trading terms.

Our supplier contracts require compliance with stringent safety, environment, social criteria and adherence to our policies and standards.

This was evidenced through the response to the pandemic where there was also added focus regarding supply chain assurance and sourcing of personal protective equipment (PPE) for our business. The Austral team assessed at risk supply chains and increased communication to manage any exposures to the potential risks of supply disruptions. Measures were put in place to mitigate the risk of transmission of COVID-19 into our operations and we have worked with our suppliers to instigate controls to manage potential exposure to the virus. Austral has existing relationships with most of these suppliers which helped to manage the risk of new supply chains with unknown risk of modern slavery.

Assessing Effectiveness

As we evolve our approach over the coming year, we are committed to reviewing the effectiveness of our Modern Slavery Risk Management program by:

- assessing our governance approach, policies and procedures to ensure we effectively address risk of modern slavery within our operations and supply chain
- reviewing our risk assessment approach and associated controls within our operations and supply chain in line with global best practice
- responding promptly to investigate complaints and grievances raised through Austral's mechanisms for reporting potential issues

PROCESS OF CONSULTATION WITH OUR SUBSIDIARY ENTITIES IN PREPARING THE MODERN SLAVERY STATEMENT

Austral Gold has several wholly owned subsidiaries and the companies operate as a consolidated group under common company policies with common governance and oversight in relation to modern slavery.
