2. Modern slavery risks in our operations and supply chains

Pepperstone rejects any form of modern slavery. We're committed to implementing controls to ensure it does not occur in our business and raise awareness about it, both in our own business and supply chain. In this statement, the term 'modern slavery' is used to include a range of exploitative practices including human trafficking, sexual exploitation, forced labour, forced criminality, domestic servitude, child exploitation and forced organ removal.

We understand that the bigger risk for us, with respect to modern slavery, is the possibility of modern slavery occurring in our supply chain. Suppliers provide us with a range of goods and services including web and software services, electronics and technology, professional services (legal and accounting) and property leasing.

We have and will continue to focus our efforts on our supply chain as a key risk area. That said, given the nature of our business, we consider the risk of modern slavery in our supply chain to be low. We're not aware of any modern slavery in our supply chain during FY22-23 and as at the date of this Statement.

3. Actions taken to assess and address those modern slavery risks

Internal Operations

Within the Pepperstone Group, we have robust onboarding and HR policies to prevent against the risks of modern slavery within our organisation and operations. We undertake a thorough employee onboarding process, which includes background checks. We also have HR policies which govern, among other issues, workplace safety, leave entitlements, equal employment opportunities, discrimination, harassment and bullying and a grievance resolution process.

Pepperstone has other internal policies to ensure integrity in our business operations, including our Whistleblower Policy and Anti-Money Laundering & Counter Terrorism Financing Program.

In March 2021, we published Pepperstone's Modern Slavery Policy. We expect that any person or entity that has, or seeks, a relationship with Pepperstone to familiarise themselves with the Modern Slavery Policy and to act in a way that is consistent with its values.

We conduct annual Modern Slavery Awareness Training and make this training available to all new staff members. Additional guidance and resources were also made available to Pepperstone's executive committee. As of 30 June 2023, 247 people had completed the Modern Slavery Awareness Training, being over 80% of our global permanent staff.

Our Suppliers

In previous years, we have focused our supply chain review efforts on 'Key Suppliers'. A supplier is categorised as a Key Supplier if:

- the value of the supply agreement is greater than AUD$100,000 per annum; or
- if the supplier is located in a 'High Risk' jurisdiction as per our internal Jurisdiction Risk Matrix; or
- the supplier is located in a medium-to-high risk jurisdiction, as categorised by the Global Slavery Index (www.globalslaveryindex.org)

Review and collaboration with the Key Suppliers, as defined above, is an important step in our engagement with the Act. We are committed to continuous improvement with respect to identifying risks of modern slavery in our supply chain.

Of our Key Suppliers, many of these organisations are themselves required under either the Australian Modern Slavery Act 2018, the Modern Slavery Act 2015 (UK) and or California Transparency in Supply Chains Act (California, USA) to prepare a modern slavery statement.

For this Reporting Period, we have focused on a specific industry, those suppliers that provide outsourced personnel services to Pepperstone Group entities.

We received self-assessment questionnaires, enhanced-questionnaire responses or Modern Slavery Statements from all of the suppliers engaged with. These responses have been reviewed and nothing in these responses has given us cause for concern regarding these suppliers' anti-modern slavery practices. We were pleased to see that a number of providers already had in place existing policies and procedures relating to modern slavery.

We expect our suppliers to have similar values to us regarding modern slavery and have ongoing plans to continue to engage with our suppliers in relation to their modern slavery statements or self-assessment questionnaire.

Due diligence

We have an Outsourcing Policy in place to manage the selection, appointment, monitoring and supervision of external service providers. We require select suppliers to complete an AML/CTF Questionnaire as part of the due diligence process. During FY22-23 we required 2 suppliers to complete an AML/CTF Questionnaire.

In previous Modern Slavery Statements, we reported on developing a vendor due diligence framework. During this period Pepperstone determined it would hire a new Procurement Manager, this individual was onboarded in July 2023. The Procurement manager is in the process of reviewing Pepperstone's procurement frameworks including but not limited to vendor onboarding, continuous monitoring and enhanced supply chain mapping.

4. How we assess the effectiveness of actions taken

We are committed to the ongoing review and assessment of our policies and procedures outlined above, focusing on the Key Suppliers within our supply chain. We will continue to engage with our suppliers regarding their modern slavery practices. We will conduct an annual review of this statement.

5. The process of consultation in preparing this statement

All companies within the Pepperstone Group are committed to implementing controls to ensure modern slavery does not occur in our business and raise awareness about it, both in our own business and supply chain.

The companies within the Pepperstone Group are subject to the same policies and standards, the companies work closely together and provide support and assistance as required.
