OUR OPERATIONS

Salter Brothers Hotel Company Ltd is part of one of the investment offerings of the broader Salter Brothers funds management business in the hotel sector.

The specific operations of Salter Brothers Hotel Company Ltd and its owned and controlled entities are primarily to own and asset manage seven hotel assets within Australia, across four States and Territories (together the 'Hotels').

Which include the following:

- InterContinental Melbourne The Rialto, 495 Collins Street, Melbourne VIC 3000;

We have a very limited role in the 'day to day' operational aspects of the above mentioned Hotels, which are operated by third parties under their respective Hotel Management Agreements, to which certain subsidiary entities of Salter Brothers Hotel Company Ltd are a party.

The Hotels are operated by global and internationally recognised and reputable hotel operators, including:

- the InterContinental Hotels Group ('IHG') for each of InterContinental, Crowne Plaza, Holiday Inn and Voco branded hotels; and
- Hyatt in respect of Hyatt Regency branded hotel.

Both hotel operators publish their own modern slavery statements. The modern slavery statement for IHG can be accessed IHG MS 2022 and the modern slavery statement for Hyatt can be accessed Hyatt MS 2022.

We work together with the hotel operators to ensure their services under the Hotel Management Agreements are performed in compliance with the highest operational and brand standards as well as the hotel operator's own standards, policies and programmes. As noted further below, these expectations are reflected within our contractual arrangements.

While our operations primarily concern the management of the Hotels under contractual Hotel Management Agreements, Salter Brothers also undertakes a limited number of ancillary corporate and administrative operations associated with the ownership of the hotels.

The broader Salter Brothers group has approximately 797 employees and contractors. All employees and contractors are engaged in accordance with, or to a higher standard than, relevant Australian employment awards, laws and regulations.

We also hold a number of investments, including investments in land, as well as the intellectual property and business assets associated with each of the Hotels.

OUR SUPPLY CHAIN

As noted above, our supply chain predominantly comprises receiving hotel management services under Hotel Management Agreements.

However, we also work with a small number of further suppliers in order to effectively manage these arrangements. The vast majority of these suppliers are located in Australia, however we acknowledge that in turn, our suppliers may procure goods and services from outside of Australia.

The main types of goods and services that we procure in addition to hotel management services include:

- employee services;
- professional services, such as lawyers, accountants, auditors, advisors, valuers and consultants;
- technical experts including developers, builders and designers;

- investment and asset management services;
- information and IT services (such as hardware and software, printers, audio/visual equipment, data room services, desk phones and mobile phones);
- catering;
- staff travel and accommodation; and

Our indirect supply chain also extends to hospitality services engaged by our hotel operators such as cleaning, catering, laundry services and labour arrangements.

Our most significant agreements are entered into on a long-term basis, including our Hotel Management Agreements and Investment Management Agreements.

However, our ancillary contracts are typically entered into on a more varied and ad hoc basis. These engagements are also typically contracted on the terms of the supplier, where we have limited leverage to negotiate amendments to the terms of those arrangements.

MODERN SLAVERY RISKS

We recognise that modern slavery may impact the hotel industry, and these risks are therefore indirectly linked to our own business activities.

Whenever possible, we endeavour to take responsibility for reducing the risk that we might contribute to modern slavery through our operations and supply chains.

Risk assessment methodology

We utilised a risk assessment methodology which considers a number of indicators of modern slavery risks including sector and industry, the type of products and services, geographical location and specific entity risk. These risk factors are based on the risk indicators and information published in:

- the Commonwealth Modern Slavery Act 2018 Guidance for Reporting Entities ('Commonwealth Guidance');
- the Walk Free Foundation's Global Slavery Index 2018 ('GSI 2018');
- International Labour Organization (Global Estimates of Modern Slavery: Forced Labour and Forced Marriage 2022) ('ILO Global Estimates of Modern Slavery'); and
- Australian Council of Superannuation Investors' 'Modern Slavery Risks, Rights & Responsibilities' report 2019 ('ACSI Report').

Our initial risk assessment has indicated that our operations and supply chain have a low/medium potential for modern slavery risks. Our risk profile is summarised in the table below.

Risk profile

Risk	Description of risk
Sector /Industry	Indirect supply chain We acknowledge the hotel and hospitality industry is labour intensive and has an exposure to modern slavery risk, particularly as a result of reports of migrant workers who are particularly vulnerable to some human rights risks. Our exposure to the hospitality industry is largely indirect as a result of the operations and supply chains of our hotel operators. Our operations and supply chains Our own operations and supply chains utilise office cleaning services and other relatively low risk industries such as corporate operations, building services, security, installation and maintenance. As noted in our 'actions' below, we have taken steps to mitigate our exposure to the risks posed by this industry, most relevantly by working collaboratively with hotel operators within the terms of the Hotel Management Agreements to which we are a party.
Product / Service	Indirect supply chain We recognise that as part of the nature of hotel ownership, we also have a number of indirect suppliers engaged by hotel operators associated with the daily operation of the Hotels, who present modern slavery risks. For example, cleaning, catering, laundry services and labour arrangements are likely to form part of our indirect supply chain through our engagement of hotel management services under the Hotel Management Agreements to which we are a party. Our operations and supply chain As our corporate operations are limited to owning and asset managing the Hotels and we are the recipient of hotel management services under the Hotel Management Agreements, we have limited direct exposure to high-risk products and services. Our primary direct exposure to high-risk products and services from a corporate perspective, is the procurement of office supplies, merchandising, electronics, including laptops, computers and mobile phones for our employees.
Geographic	Our operations are predominantly in Australia and the majority of our suppliers are also contracted directly in Australia, resulting in our operations and supply chain having a low potential for modern slavery risk. However, we acknowledge that in turn, our suppliers may procure goods and services from outside of Australia.
Specific Entity	Our key partners, IHG and Hyatt, are global and reputable hotel operators with a strong commitment to mitigating modern slavery. As noted above, both IGH and Hyatt are internationally recognised and reputable hotel operators that publish their own modern slavery statements.
COVID-19 risks	The hotel industry was a significantly impacted sector during COVID-19, with the Hotels experiencing a significant decline in occupancy. As a result, during this period our resources were largely focused on managing our response to COVID-19 and maintaining engagement with hotel operators. As restrictions are lifted and travel demand increases, we are working alongside hotel operators to appropriately manage any supply issues stemming from COVID-19 which may indirectly affect the Hotels.

Actions to assess and address risk

We understand the importance of working collaboratively with our hotel operators, employees, suppliers and the broader industry to combat modern slavery.

That is why we have a number of measures in place to assess and address modern slavery in our operations and supply chains.

Contracts and supplier engagement

Our key partners, IHG and Hyatt are engaged through Hotel Management Agreements which include a number of contractual obligations to ensure hotel operation services are performed in compliance with the highest operational and brand standards as well as the hotel operator's own standards, policies and programmes.

As noted above, our ancillary suppliers and service providers typically provide their services on their own standard terms, and we typically have limited leverage to negotiate the terms of these arrangements.

Governance and accountability framework

The Board of Salter Brothers Hotel Company Ltd drives our long-term strategy and is ultimately accountable for establishing and maintaining our response to modern slavery risks.

The Board is supported by key members of our leadership team, including representatives from our ESG, Compliance, Human Resources and Legal business units. ### Looking forward

We will continue to review and consider the steps we can take to assess and address the risks of modern slavery in our operations and supply chains.

We are further developing our modern slavery framework and recognise there are further steps we can take to assess and address the risks of modern slavery in our operations and supply chains.

Going forward, we will focus on:

- introducing a supplier code of conduct; and
- continuing to collaborate with hotel operators to ensure we are continually improving our approach to assessing and addressing modern slavery risks;
- training relevant staff to raise awareness of modern slavery risks and how they may arise in our business.

In order to assess the effectiveness of these actions, we will:

- when commencing a new operation or engaging a new supplier, assess whether our existing risk management processes remain appropriate;
