The Group's Human Rights Policy statement complements the DHL Group's Code of Conduct, the basis and benchmark for all guidelines and regulations that ensure responsible and ethically irreproachable conduct within the Group. The policy statement defines its minimum standards for working conditions and human rights in the Group's employee and partner relations. For our suppliers, the DHL Group's Supplier Code of Conduct sets out the required Human Rights minimum standards. All policies are regularly reviewed to ensure they are relevant, up to date and supplemented with new topics where necessary.

The DHL AU entities use the same policies and processes and operate in broadly the same sector. DHL AU has therefore provided a single, consolidated description of actions to address modern slavery risks.

This statement is made with respect to the 2023 calendar year. This Modern Slavery Policy Statement was approved by the board of DHL Supply Chain (Australia) Pty Ltd on 20 June 2024, by the board of DHL Express (Australia) Pty Ltd on 20 June 2024 by the board of DHL Global Forwarding (Australia) Pty Limited on 26 June 2024 and by the board of Deutsche Post Global Mail (Australia) Pty Limited on 26 June 2024

The process of integrating the Glen Cameron Group's compliance standards, systems and processes into our business remains ongoing. To date, key policies, procedures and practices mitigating any risk of modern slavery have been implemented. During the past year we have reviewed terms and conditions of employees which has included the review of the gender composition and ensuring all workers are over 18 years of age, completed regular reviews of employee working hours and completed periodic reviews of compensation and benefits of employees. During this period, there has also been an alignment with work, health and safety and human resources processes, policies and procedures as well as the review of partners' terms and conditions. RISKS OF MODERN SLAVERY IN DHL AU OPERATIONS AND SUPPLY CHAINS¹

With no significant changes in its operations since its previous modern slavery statement, the levels of risk of modern slavery in DHL AU's own operations remains low. DHL AU has a robust suite of resources, policies and procedures to monitor and manage human rights issues in their operations. Employees participate in online compliance programmes about the Code of Conduct and its application to everyday scenarios at work and when doing business. This learning also forms an integral part of the employee induction process.

DHL assesses the risk of modern slavery in its first-tier suppliers as generally low. The majority of DHL AU's first tier suppliers are based in Australia or in other countries where the risk of modern slavery is low or very low.

Identified Key Risk Areas

The Group, for the year under review, has currently assessed five supplier categories defined as higher risk for the areas covered by our Human Rights Policy Statement:

- Road transport
- Uniforms and personal protective equipment
- Temporary Labour & Output Based Services
- Promotional items
- Building renovations and new constructions

DHL AU has identified domestic transport as a key risk area in its first-tier supply chain. In addition to its internal fleet of vehicles, DHL AU utilises the services of third-party subcontractors to undertake domestic transport as part of the services we provide to our customers. While the supplier evaluation and subcontracting arrangements seek to mitigate modern slavery and human rights risks, there is limited visibility of workers activities and conditions.

Another risk area is temporary labour hire. To help meet variable business demands, third party labour arrangements are operationally beneficial. However, using a third-party labour hire company to provide workers introduces complexity into DHL AU's supply chain and increases modern slavery risk by reducing our visibility over recruitment and retention practices.

Potential risk areas in DHL AU's extended supply chain include:

- Promotional items, uniforms and apparel: promotional items and the apparel industries are areas of increasing focus with manufacturing most often occurring in high-risk countries. Forced labour, unpaid wages and unsafe working conditions have been reported in the respective industries throughout South East Asia.

ACTIONS TAKEN BY DHL AU TO ASSESS AND ADDRESS RISKS

1. DHL AU INTERNAL OPERATIONS

Policies and Governance

As an employer, DHL AU, as part of the Group leads by example. Respecting Human Rights is a core value of the Group and is committed to respecting all internationally recognised human rights standards as relevant to its operations. Its Human Rights Policy Statement anchors minimum standards for fair working conditions and human rights in employee relations throughout Australia. The Group bases its human rights policy statement on:

- The Ten principles of the UN Global Compact;
- The Universal Declaration of Human Rights;
- The International Labour Organization’s Declaration on the Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work;
- The OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises;
- The UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights; and
- The UN Sustainable Development Goals.

Accountability for the implementation of this Human Rights Policy Statement is overseen by the Chief Executive Officers of the respective businesses in Australia. This ensures that every member of the DHL AU business is clear about the responsibility to respect human rights and its day-to-day implementation.

Employee Code of Conduct

Our Employee Code of Conduct reflects DHL AU’s corporate values “Respect & Results”. The Code of Conduct is binding for all regions and business units of the DHL Group.

We respect the privacy of all individuals and the confidentiality of any personal data we hold about them. The Group's Data Privacy Policy provides appropriate safeguards for transmission of personal data belonging to its employees, customers and suppliers within the Group. The Group's Data Protection Management safeguards compliance with the respective data protection regulations and legislation.

2. DHL AU SUPPLIERS

Our commitment to respect human rights is reflected in DHL AU's policies e.g., Code of Conduct, Supplier Code of Conduct and procedures. To comply with international Human Rights standards, national laws and DHL AU's policies we undertake appropriate Human Rights due diligence to identify, assess and address potential and actual adverse human rights impacts in our business activities and supply chain.

Our Human Rights Policy Statement, focuses on human rights relevant for our business and operations. Our due diligence framework, ensures that our Human Rights Policy Statement is implemented among our workforce. In addition, we use the system to monitor due diligence compliance. The Human Rights Due Diligence Framework that is also applicable for modern slavery risks covers the following five key areas:

DHL SUPPLIER MANAGEMENT PROCESS OVERVIEW

Supplier Due Diligence and Risk Assessment Process

The Group has implemented a Group-wide risk management system for supplier assessments. This calculates the potential risk of suppliers at the level of purchase categories (material groups). The risk assessment is influenced by 46 types of risk within eight risk domains (ESG, economic, technical, legal and political risks, as well as cybersecurity) that are evaluated for each individual purchasing category.

This selection process is based on a standardized assessment that also takes aspects such as diversity and respect for human rights into account, as well as external criteria such as those from Transparency International (Corruption Perceptions Index) and Verisk Maplecroft. In the year under review, the supplier assessment was supplemented with additional internal measures and expanded with external audits (including in accordance with the SMETA method). In the event of findings, remedial measures are discussed and plans for corrective measures are agreed upon.

Supplier Code of Conduct

We expect all of our suppliers, including subcontractors, i.e. all companies who do business with any company or division of DHL AU, to adhere to the same high ethical standards as our internal operations.

For this purpose, the DHL Group has produced a Supplier Code of Conduct (SCoC), which sets the minimum standards for doing business with any Group company or Business Unit. For more detailed information on the Supplier Code of Conduct, please click on the following link: Deutsche Post DHL Group | Supplier Code of Conduct \(dpdhl.com\)

DHL AU are recommended to only buy products and services from suppliers and subcontractors that have accepted and signed our Supplier Code of Conduct (with the exception of small ad hoc purchases).

Shield

The Group uses a Supplier Risk Management Tool, Shield. This tool serves as the single point of access for all risk management activities for suppliers. Assessment scores stored in this tool include but are not limited to a Due Diligence Questionnaire (DDQ) or external supplier evaluation such as EcoVadis.

The Supplier Risk Management Tool presents all available risk assessments of a supplier according to a consistent logic. Suppliers who score between 0 and 25 will be classified as high-risk suppliers and a Corrective Action Plan (CAP) will need to be formulated and agreed between all stakeholders.

The expectation is that the supplier will complete this in an agreed timeframe and then undertake a new Assessment. Should the supplier not engage or complete the CAP to a satisfactory level, the supplier may be off-boarded. For those Suppliers who score between 26 to 49 will be classified as medium-risk suppliers and will need to implement their own CAP and be reassessed in 12 months. Suppliers who score 50 or above will be classified as low-risk suppliers and will have to be reassessed in 36 months.

SUPPLIER SCORE	ACTION
50 - 100	Assess every 3 years
26 - 49	Annual Assessment & Priority Action in Improvement Plan
0 - 25	Reassessment/Corrective Action Plan
Consider phase out if failure

Supplier Due Diligence Questionnaire (DDQ)

A “Supplier Due Diligence” policy (establishing minimum criteria for screening, process and a due diligence Questionnaire) is embedded in the Corporate Procurement Policy. This procedure incorporates assessments on our standards in the areas of Human Rights and Fair Labour Practices as well as Health & Safety, Data Protection, Bribery and Corruption, Environment, and Business Continuity Planning, with standards from our Supplier Code of Conduct.

The engagement of suppliers requires full compliance with internal company policies, particularly with procurement policies. In addition, before entering into a new business relationship with a supplier, the below criteria of the Third-Party Screening Process need to be assessed and applied.

While the Third-Party Screening is generally recommended for evaluating all suppliers, it is obligatory in all cases where the supplier provides temporary labour services or 2 of the following 3 criteria are met:

- The supplier provides an important element (i.e. if the annual cash-transaction with the proposed supplier exceeds or is expected to exceed € 2.5 million or local currency equivalent) of DHL AU’s service and for Suppliers providing products/services to country entities with an annual spend of at least 250 k € being part of grouped companies exceeding 2,5m € annual spend
- The relationship will be established and / or the services will be provided in a country with a Transparency International Corruption Perceptions Index score \leq 45 (based on Transparency International’s survey);
- The Third Party will be licensed to use any logo of the DHL Group and/or products / services having a high-risk exposure to violation of Health & Safety and Human Relation related aspects (applies for suppliers in Transportation FTL/LTL, Promotional items, Uniforms, Protective Clothing, Security Services, Cleaning / Catering Services)

The Third-Party Screening is to be initiated by approaching the supplier with the Due Diligence Questionnaire. The Shield Scoring Index is applied and the corresponding actions are taken because of the Supplier’s DDQ score.

Self Assessment Questionnaire (SAQ)

In our continuous efforts to enhance our supplier management processes and ensure we are undertaking the appropriate due diligence, the DHL Group has introduced category-specific Self Assessment Questionnaires (SAQ) in 2023. These SAQ’s are designed to further evaluate the identified high-risk categories of supplier spend, initially targeted at the suppliers of temporary labour and domestic transport services across Australia.

External Supplier Evaluations

To enable the highest possible quality and objectivity during the supplier evaluation process, DHL AU utilises external organisations to audit suppliers’ systems, processes and performance.

To mitigate the risk of unethical practices occurring in our supply chains, DHL AU uses EcoVadis and ICTI The Ethical Toy Program (IETP) to independently evaluate suppliers against a set of sustainability criteria. Depending on the category, all procurement-managed suppliers are now obligated to complete either one of the external evaluations within 6 months of signing a new or renewing a contract where the annual spend exceeds € 2.5 million and/or exceeds 100 transactions per annum. The Shield Scoring Index is also captured, and the corresponding actions are taken because of the Supplier’s EcoVadis or IETP score.

The objective of the EcoVadis Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) rating methodology is to measure the quality of a company’s CSR management system through its policies, actions and results. The EcoVadis assessment is based on 21 CSR Criteria in line with the UN Global Compact principles, which are anchored in 4 main themes, Environment, Labour and Human Rights, Ethics and Sustainable Procurement. EcoVadis requires companies to provide formal, recent, and credible documentation that serves as a reliable element of the company’s CSR management system, e.g., CSR reports, policies, procedures, certificates, training materials. A scorecard is then generated for DHL AU and the supplier against these key criteria along with strengths and areas for improvement.

The ICTI Ethical Toy Program (IETP) is an external audit partner for suppliers that operate in a factory or warehouse environment. For DHL, this includes suppliers in the packaging, promotion and apparel categories. ICTI Ethical Toy Program Certification requires factories to uphold certain standards to support the rights and well-being of factory workers. This Audit process undertaken ensures the auditors are provided full access to the factories and warehouses and can conduct worker interviews without interference. Amongst other aspects of the ICTI Ethical Toy Program audit, it seeks to ensure that there are no modern slavery conditions imposed on the workers, which includes but not limited to:

- no forced, involuntary or prison labour;
- no recruitment fees paid by the workers;
- all overtime is voluntary;
- ensure worker’s wages are legal, fair and accurate;
- working hours are not excessive;

- workplace conditions are safe;
- worker health is safeguarded;
- protective equipment is provided; and;
- effective emergency procedures are in place.

The Ethical Toy Program Audit Checklist sets out detailed requirements that factories must meet to become Certified in this program. The Audit Checklist forms the backbone of the program, focussing on safe work environments, ensuring that workers are treated fairly with respect and dignity and that factories operate ethically. The Audit Checklist draws on conventions of the International Labour Organization (ILO) and other initiatives to promote fair labour practices and eliminate the risk of modern slavery practices.

Modern Slavery Risk Assessment Questionnaire

DHL AU continues to conduct modern slavery risk assessment questionnaire with those suppliers that have not yet completed or are not required to produce a modern slavery statement. This survey is designed to understand our suppliers' approach to managing the risk of modern slavery within their business and in their own supply chains. This questionnaire was modified to include the Shield Scoring Index to more easily identify modern slavery risks present and develop an appropriate action plan to address them. The selection criteria of the suppliers who will be invited to complete the Modern Slavery questionnaire will be chosen from the identified high-risk categories below and have an annual spend of €2.5m, or in the instance that the spend is below this threshold, more than 100 transactions per year.

- Promotional Items
- Temporary Labour
- Office Supplies
- Corporate Wear
- Protective Clothing
- Building Maintenance & Repair
- Cleaning Services & Janitorial
- Security Services
- Output Based Services

Customs, Export Controls and Sanctions

In the interest of responsible and ethically sound business practice, DHL AU always act in accordance with legal regulations and international conventions. We comply with the applicable laws and regulations on export controls, sanctions and customs clearance in all regions and countries. These relate not only to the movement of goods, but can also have an impact on matters such as financial transactions, the use of technology, procurement, or the hiring of personnel.

1. TRAINING & AWARENESS

We continue to communicate the Group's policies and raise awareness and knowledge amongst our employees and partners. We offer specific training on human rights-related matters to our employees and partners.

Our People

- All new joiners are inducted into the core principles of the Code of Conduct.
- Human Rights videos explaining the 7 core areas including forced labour & child labour are shared via our internal company intranet.

- Human Rights e-learning: All senior management are required to complete this training every two years to ensure ongoing awareness and understanding of ethical standards, human rights, labour rights, and the prevention of modern slavery and human trafficking.
- Supplier Code of Conduct (SCoC) e-learning: All senior management are required to complete this training every two years to understand the importance of the SCoC set of strict ethical standards for doing business with our suppliers

Our Supply Chain

- To certify their commitment, suppliers are asked to complete the interactive Supplier Code of Conduct training that is available in 11 languages and upload their certificate into the supplier management software suite.
- Supplier Webcasts are produced to raise greater awareness on topics such as Human Rights.
- In conjunction with Trace International, we provide Suppliers & their staff, free of charge training on important topics such as Forced Labor & Human Trafficking.
- We convey our expectations to our suppliers and subcontractors via our Supplier Portal and introduce our selection processes. Suppliers can also use our portal to familiarize themselves with our Supplier Code of Conduct, which we make available in numerous languages along with the corresponding training module. From there, they can also access our professional compliance whistleblower system that they can use to report potential violations of the Code or statutory provisions as well as cybersecurity incidents.

2. STAKEHOLDER ENGAGEMENT

We recognize that we are part of the communities in which we operate in. We seek to engage with stakeholders e.g., our supply chain through dialogue to better understand and consider their views and expectations regarding human rights and modern slavery as described in our Stakeholder Engagement Guideline.

3. REMEDY AND GRIEVANCE MECHANISM

The group operates a professional Compliance Incident Reporting System where employees and third parties are able to share concerns/issues, including matters relating to labour practices or breaches of human rights. All reported violations are handled confidentially. Any matter raised is investigated by an independent investigation team.

If it is determined that there is a risk of adverse human rights impact caused or contributed to by our business activities, we have a procedure in place to ensure the activity is assessed, changed, discontinued and/or remediated. We encourage our employees to address suspected violations of this modern slavery policy statement through the established accessible grievance or dispute resolution channels including local management, responsible Human Resources departments or the Compliance Incident Reporting System.. Our partners and third parties have the opportunity to access web forms at www.dhlcompliance.com to report potential violations of our Human Rights Policy Statement.

4. CONSEQUENCES OF BREACH

If infringements against our policies are reported, we will take appropriate measures for proper clarification of the circumstances of the breach. We will take corrective actions where appropriate. Consequences under civil and criminal law will depend on how and in what circumstances an individual has contravened our policies. Where a breach of legislation is proven in this regard, we also reserve the right to refer the matter to the relevant authorities for further action.

An allegation or violations of our Supplier Code of Conduct and/or standards, may prompt an investigation or inquiry. Should sufficient evidence come to light, we will take appropriate action as the circumstances may require.

Any consequences applied will depend on the severity and in line with our internal Supplier Incident Management Process.

EFFECTIVENESS OF ACTIONS BEING TAKEN TO ASSESS AND ADDRESS MODERN SLAVERY RISKS

Corporate Governance and Monitoring

The Group communicates and reports on its human rights related commitments, activities and statements, consistent with modern slavery statement, as part of the Group's annual reporting. As part of our culture of continuous improvement, DHL AU regularly evaluates and reviews how best to improve and strengthen our approach to addressing human rights in our sphere of influence. The implementation of measures for respecting human rights in the workforce and in the supply chain have been monitored on a global scale by the new German Supply Chain Due Diligence Act (Lieferkettensorgfaltspflichtengesetz – LkSG) Council since the beginning of 2023.

Supplier Code of Conduct

We use supplier spend covered by an accepted Supplier Code of Conduct to measure the successful implementation of our standards in the supply chain. We record progress via the central financial systems, report to management every quarter, and discuss developments. In 2023, Australian supplier spend covered by an accepted Supplier Code of Conduct amounted to more than $ 884 million.

Internal and External Audits Completed

As part of DHL AU's efforts to appropriately document risk-based due diligence pertaining to the hiring and appropriate and regular oversight of suppliers, DHL AU conducted a further 13 Supplier Due Diligence Screenings in 2023 for suppliers across the DHL AU Group. With all DDQ Audits registering a Risk Assessment Rating of Low, these Screenings did not highlight any human rights or other risks or adverse findings for these suppliers. No escalations were required to the Regional Compliance or Procurement Governance team.

In 2023, 11 Self-Assessment Questionnaires were completed for Transport providers and 4 for Temp Labour suppliers. All 15 Supplier responses were evaluated, and their Risk Assessment Ratings were classified as Low.

To support our robust and objective supplier evaluations, EcoVadis assessments were conducted for 32 suppliers over the last 12 months across the high-risk human rights categories of temporary labour, facilities management, transportation and network supplies. Of those assessments, 18 vendors were classified as Low Risk (50+), 14 as Medium Risk (26 – 49), with no vendors identified as High Risk.

For those Medium Risk vendors, EcoVadis has provided correspondence outlining the corrective actions required, along with a timeline for resolution. Each supplier is re-assessed 12 months after notice to track improvements against the target actions.

17 Modern Slavery Questionnaires were completed by Suppliers in 2023, with 11 suppliers classified as Low-Risk, 5 suppliers classified as medium risk and 1 supplier classified as High-Risk. For these high-risk supplier, a Corrective Action Plan (CAP) has been formulated and agreed between all stakeholders.

Effectiveness of the Compliance Hotline

Potential violations can be anonymously reported 24/7, via our professional compliance incident reporting system (whistle-blower hotline). The incident reporting system was made available to third parties during 2023. Reports are reviewed and investigated internally for potential violations as part of a standardised process. Information on relevant violations is collected and included in the regular compliance reports made to the DHL Group Board of Management and to the Supervisory Board's Finance and Audit Committee.

Internal Awareness and Training Programs

In the interest of raising awareness of compliance amongst employees, a Group-wide campaign – Compliance Awareness Week - was carried out in 2023 and rounded out by measures tailored to the specific divisions and regions. The campaign was additionally supported by “tone from the top” statements from the members of the DHL Group Board of Management to emphasise to each employee the importance of compliance for the Group. To strengthen the internal dialogue, our workforce was made aware of and informed about compliance aspects on an ongoing basis by means of further communication measures and via the compliance channels. To further support this, employees are required to complete Code of Conduct and Human Rights training.

Through 2023, 456 DHL Express employees completed the Code of Conduct training, along with 212 employees completing the Human Rights e-learning module. These numbers are in addition to the employees who completed this training in previous years. In DHL Global Forwarding, 599 employees completed the Code of Conduct training, along with 43 employees in Deutsche Post Global Mail. 3 employees of DHL Global Forwarding and all eligible employees of Deutsche Post Global Mail completed the Human Rights e-learning module as well. 418 DHL Supply chain employees completed the Code of Conduct training, along with 84 employees completing the Human Rights e-learning module.
