- Geographic locations – Certain countries are associated with a greater risk of modern slavery practices (for example, see the UN Global Slavery Index).
- Industry sectors – Certain industry sectors are deemed higher risk in international and national guidance documentation (for example, see the ACSI guide on Modern Slavery Risks, Rights & Responsibilities 2019).

4. FY2023 Actions & Outcomes

The Mader Group's focus in FY23 was to further strengthen its understanding of potential risks of modern slavery practices in its operations and supply chains and commit to further actions that will improve its ability to identify and reduce those risks in the future. The actions taken by the Mader Group in FY23 are set out below:

- a. Risk assessment – We completed an updated risk assessment of our operations and supply chains seeking to identify potential modern slavery risks. No immediate concerns were raised as the majority of goods and services purchased by the Mader Group were sourced from low risk, first tier and domestic based suppliers. However, to ensure that Modern Slavery is detected within our supply chain operations, our supplier due diligence processes will be further reviewed to reduce the exposure to modern slavery within our supply chains.
- b. Supplier engagement – We continue to engage with our direct suppliers to help identify risks of modern slavery, with a focus on industry sectors, geographic locations or product categories generally associated with higher modern slavery risks. We continue to explore ways to improve our supplier engagement processes including, for example, through the use of modern slavery questionnaires, if deemed appropriate as part of our risk assessment processes.
- c. Policy review – The Mader Group's corporate governance framework seeks to address the risks associated with modern slavery within a suite of policies, procedures and guidelines which are available to all employees. This includes the Mader Group's Whistleblower Policy and Modern Slavery Policy. We undertook a review of our Modern Slavery Policy to consider its effectiveness in mitigating modern slavery risks in our business and supply chains as part of our broader framework of policies and procedures. We believe that our Modern Slavery Policy appropriately address modern slavery risks in our operations and supply chains at this time.
- d. Risk management framework – We reviewed our approach to risk management across all areas of our business potentially affected by modern slavery risks, in particular our procurement and risk management systems. No immediate concerns were raised, however we identified areas of improvement in these processes, including in relation to supplier engagement.
- e. Contracting – We reviewed our contract templates for appropriate clauses to help minimise modern slavery risks. No immediate concerns were raised, however we will look to incorporate modern slavery clauses into more of our supplier templates on an ongoing basis.
- f. Awareness & training – Key stakeholders within the Mader Group were advised on the suppliers and industries within its supply and business operations which presented the greatest risk of modern slavery practices and were trained to identify and address any concerns regarding modern slavery practices when assessing a supplier's actions and behaviours.

The Mader Group presently plans to take the following actions in FY24 to identify and address modern slavery risks:

- c. Policy review – We will complete an updated review of our corporate governance framework including our Modern Slavery Policy to consider its effectiveness in mitigating modern slavery risks in our business and supply chains as part of our broader framework of policies and procedures.
