SUPPLY CHAINS

The diagram below outlines the key areas of supply within the SEE Group business.

From these key groups, SEE Group sources services relating to corporate uniforms and personal protective equipment, construction materials including raw resources, machinery and equipment hire, car leasing, design services, communication services, traffic management solutions, security services, waste and recycling facilities, insurance and environmental landscaping.

SEE Group engaged approximately 1531 suppliers predominately from Australia in FY 21/22 and some overseas companies, such as China, Finland, Germany, Italy, Japan, New Zealand, Singapore, South Korea, Sweden and the USA. This largely related to the supply of materials and plant for various projects. Many of these suppliers will have subsequent suppliers of their own.

SEE Group generally only engages with local Australian suppliers with emphasis on sourcing local supplies where a project is based. We seek to encourage and support local economic development.

MODERN SLAVERY RISKS

‘Modern Slavery’ describes situations of serious exploitation in Australia or abroad such as human, slavery, servitude, forced marriage, forced labour, debt bondage, deceptive recruiting for labour or services, and the worst forms of child labour. It does not include substandard working conditions or underpayment of workers. These practices are also illegal and harmful and may be present in situations of modern slavery.

The United Nations Guiding Principles of Business and Human Rights 2011 underpins the core principles of the Modern Slavery Act 2018 (Cth).

SEE Group places respect for Human Rights at the forefront of its operations and supply chains and aims to embed practices that support these principles throughout the business. Consequently, SEE Group endeavours to engage suppliers with similar ethics, values and practices pertaining to Human Rights.

SEE Group considers identifying Modern Slavery risks and practices of paramount importance to maintain safe, lawful and ethical business operations.

The risks associated to various suppliers is specific to the type of supply being engaged and many factors contribute to this e.g location, type of supplier, company size.

SEE Group has assessed the risk of modern slavery within the Group’s operations as low impact. SEE Group has a comprehensive system of checks and procedures to ensure compliance with all legislative requirement across the work force and suppliers it engages with.

RISK MITIGATION ACTIONS

We endeavour to engage with local services and products. This is part of our ongoing commitment to local communities to where our projects are located, to inject financial growth in that community.

We have a particular focus on employing the skills of indigenous persons and businesses as part of the projects we deliver.

The below diagram demonstrates SEE Groups current practices of ensuring Human Rights are at the forefront of what we do:

ASSESSING EFFECTIVENESS

- SEE Group actively engages with its suppliers to determine whether they are compliant with our standards. If an area of concern is identified with a supplier, we proactively engage in positive dialogue in order to remedy any failure of our policies and Code of Conduct.
- SEE Group's actions of a comprehensive onboarding process and contractual terms requiring suppliers to comply with legislative obligations including those relevant to eliminating modern slavery and SEE's policies and procedures appear to have been effective in minimising the risk of modern slavery within the main areas of SEE Group's direct supply chain.
- Responsibility for assessing and addressing modern slavery risks has been assigned to the Audit and Risk Committee.
- The Group's modern slavery risk management approach is approved annually and by the Board of Directors.

ACTIONS TAKEN IN THE LAST 12 MONTHS

SEE Group now include in their contracts with suppliers additional obligations pertaining to the modern slavery legislation. This includes a requirement by the supplier to sign a Statutory Declaration confirming that they currently comply and will continue to comply with the modern slavery legislation and that their suppliers to whom they engage are, to the best of their knowledge, also compliant with this legislation.

The Audit and Risk Committee are continuing to review existing policies and training to provide for general modern slavery risk and processes to ensure SEE Group and it's suppliers continue to manage the risks associated with modern slavery.

A Sustainability Committee has been formed to review the effectiveness of initiatives so as to strengthen supply chain transparency and traceability, thereby reducing the risk of modern slavery.

The Audit and Risk Committee will continue to meet regularly to monitor and mitigate any potential modern slavery risks with suppliers and report to the Managing Director of any concerns that may arise.

CONSULTATION WITH SEE GROUP ENTITIES

SEE Group recognises that each entity has a role to play in addressing modern slavery risks. This statement has been prepared in consultation with each entity and has been approved by SEE Group's board. The process of consultation involved engagement with the Group's Executive Leadership Team and input from the various relevant internal stakeholder groups (including Finance, Commercial and Legal and People and Culture).

This statement was approved by the SEE Group Parent Pty Ltd Board of Directors on 30 January 2023.
