Modern slavery risks

The Trustee understands that modern slavery risk can occur in operations and supply chains. As Trustee, we conduct an annual risk assessment on the direct supply chain of all Trusts that meet the Act's reporting threshold. The risk assessment is done separately to Perpetual Group's corporate modern slavery supply chain risk assessment. It is also in addition to due diligence activities undertaken for the assessment and management of modern slavery risks in investments in the Trust by the Investment Manager.

Defining modern slavery risks

Modern slavery is serious exploitation that undermines a person's freedom. In a situation where modern slavery occurs, a person cannot refuse or leave due to threats, violence, coercion, abuse of power, or deception¹.

Modern slavery occurs in a variety of forms: there are eight types including human trafficking, slavery, servitude, forced marriage, forced labour, debt bondage, deceptive recruiting for labour or services and the worst forms of child labour².

Modern slavery risk means the potential for the Trust to cause, contribute to, or be directly linked to modern slavery through their operations or supply chain. This means looking at risks to people rather than risk to the company (such as reputational or financial damage), although often these risks are connected. The Trust recognises that armed conflicts, widespread environmental degradation, assaults on democracy in many countries and a global rollback of women's rights, has exacerbated modern slavery risks for people in vulnerable situations³.

Risk assessment methodology

In FY24, the Trustee collected information on the Trust supply chain and operations to include in a modern slavery risk assessment. Specifically, the Trustee investigated the Investment Manager and service providers that the Trust has a direct relationship with. The Investment Manager and service providers were then assessed for inherent modern slavery risks and an inherent risk profile was determined for each entity. Inherent risk is the level of risk before any actions are taken to manage the risk's impact or likelihood.

Risk assessment results

Investments

The risk assessment for the underlying investment holdings for the Trust is undertaken by the Investment Manager in accordance with their Responsible Investment, Environmental, Social and Governance Policy. See the due diligence section of this Statement below for further details of their approach.

The Trust's investment footprint is concentrated as all their assets are held in within the Trust.

Supply chain

The Trustee's FY24 risk assessment of suppliers did not identify any high-risk service providers. All service providers have been categorised as low or medium risk. This is because, the service providers are all professional or diversified financial services organisations who operate in Australia, which is identified as a low-risk country location by the Perpetual Group's ESG data provider or have low risk exposure where they operate internationally as well.

Sector/Product

Inherent Risk Profile

Professional Services and Diversified Financial Services

There is generally a low risk of modern slavery in the professional services and diversified financial services industries in Australia, due to the general absence of factors concerning workers that might be vulnerable to exploitation, and the nature of the work itself. There may be risks in the operations and supply chains of these businesses such as through their procurement of cleaning services and merchandising and other equipment for offices which may be linked to higher risks of modern slavery.

Actions to address modern slavery risks

As a Trust, addressing modern slavery risks is necessarily different to the approach that can be undertaken by a company which has direct oversight and control of its own operations and supply chains. That is because the Trust itself has limited operations and supply chains and can have influence, but not direct control, over its investments.

As a trust within the Investment Manager's portfolio, the Trust is subject to the following modern slavery, and broader ESG, policies and controls.

Due diligence

Risk assessment

The Trustee's annual risk assessment was conducted by the Trustee to assess the Trust's inherent modern slavery risks in its supply chain. Additional due diligence is conducted by the Investment Manager on investments as part of their RI Policy (as described below).

Investments (due diligence by the Investment Manager)

The Investment Manager incorporated responsible investment, environmental, social and governance factors into its investment management activities as well as the management of our business is outlined in their Responsible Investment and ESG Policy.

During the reporting period, the Investment Manager adopted a Human Rights Policy, following the completion of a Human Rights due diligence exercise. This exercise included developing our first human rights risk heatmap, plotting risks based on their severity and likelihood. When undertaking our analysis we considered a wide range of human rights issues that could be relevant across our value chain and identified the topics most relevant to Metrics.

The Human Rights Policy affirms the Investment Manager's commitment to respecting internationally recognised human rights standards, including those set out in the International Bill of Human Rights and the principles concerning fundamental rights set out in the International Labour Organization's Declaration on Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work.

Supply chain

As the Trustee for the Trust, Perpetual Trust Service Limited owns the relationships with the direct service providers which are used by the Trust. As part of the Perpetual Group, the Trustee is subject to the same policies, due diligence and remediation process to address modern slavery as the Perpetual Group. This includes adherence to Perpetual Group's Modern Slavery Framework which sets out the programs, processes and tools in place to ensure compliance with the Modern Slavery Act.

Procurement processes including provisions focused on modern slavery within contractual terms with new suppliers to ensure our suppliers understand we require them to assess and manage modern slavery risk in their business.

Investment Manager's supply chain

The Investment Manager is committed to upholding high ESG standards in the management of its firm and in their human resource and supply chain practices. In addition, the Investment Manager understands that the responsibility to respect human rights requires that business enterprises:

- avoid causing or contributing to adverse human rights impacts through their own activities, and address such impacts when they occur; and
- seek to prevent or mitigate adverse human rights impacts that are directly linked to their operations, products or services by their business relationships.

The Investment Manager's Human Rights Policy sets out the expectations from team members as well as suppliers, business partners, investee companies and other parties whose own impacts may be directly linked to the Investment Manager's operations, products or services. As per this policy, it is expected that all such parties respect and not infringe upon any human rights. Where possible, the Investment Manager engages with other stakeholders to encourage greater transparency on material ESG issues.

The Investment Manager continues to be a Principles for Responsible Investment (PRI) signatory and an endorser of its 'Advance' program. Advance is a stewardship initiative where institutional investors work together to take action on human rights and social issues. Investors use their collective influence with companies and other decision makers to drive positive outcomes for workers, communities and society.

The Investment Manager also continued to participate in Pinnacle Group's initiative for engaging collectively with high risk suppliers to help better understand how they address modern slavery risks, with initial interviews conducted during the reporting period. Nearly half of the suppliers engaged through this initiative have issued modern slavery statements, with some doing so voluntarily, demonstrating proactive commitment to ethical practices. Several suppliers flagged risks related to global sourcing from South-East Asia and low-skilled labour in outsourced operations, highlighting the potential for labour exploitation. Some respondents have implemented modern slavery training as part of their onboarding process, targeting either all staff or specific teams. Despite our engagement efforts, we also acknowledge that less than half of the suppliers responded to the modern slavery questionnaire sent to them, indicating the need for stronger engagement and follow-up strategies.

Industry Collaborations

The Investment Manager's dedicated Sustainable Finance team is responsible for identifying and managing initiatives offering opportunities for collaboration on stewardship and regularly updates the Managing Partners on matters pertaining to the organisations and initiatives of which Metrics is a supporter.

The team plays an active role in industry initiatives including representing Metrics on:

- the Responsible Investment Association Australasia's ('RIAA') Human Rights and Nature Working Groups
- the UN Global Compact's Modern Slavery Community of Practice initiative
- the PRI's Human Rights and Social Issues Reference Group

Remediation

As a Trustee, Perpetual Group may be linked directly to modern slavery through our business relationships with other entities via their own investments and supply chains, however, it is unlikely that the Trustee will directly cause or contribute to modern slavery.

Perpetual Group's remediation approach is outlined in the Group's Modern Slavery Framework, which the Trustee is subject to. Should an incident of modern slavery occur in a Trust which we have 'caused or contributed' to, we would engage with the Investment Manager and act in accordance with our remediation principles.

The purpose of remediation is to ensure Perpetual Group takes reasonable steps to:

- Address the underlying root causes driving the modern slavery if possible;
- Prevent the modern slavery impact from re-occurring by collaborating, supporting remediation and monitoring the implementation of remedial measures taken by another party; and
- Ensure compliance with national and international labour and human rights standards.

Perpetual Group's remediation process has been approved by the Executive Committee and has been captured in our Modern Slavery Framework. The process details specific steps that we will take if Perpetual Group has 'caused or contributed' to modern slavery.

Our approach to remediation is led by a set of guiding principles. These include ensuring that our actions are in the best interest of the suspected victim or victims and responding in a way that is appropriate to the circumstances of the situation.

The principles also articulate that we will take steps to prevent further harm to achieve the best possible outcome for the victim or victims and consider whether there is any action that Perpetual Group can take that may address the underlying structural factors that have contributed to the exploitation.

Our Modern Slavery Framework, including the remediation process, is available to our employees on our intranet.

Grievance mechanism

Modern slavery is a form of reportable misconduct under Perpetual Group's Whistleblower Policy. Through this mechanism, employees in the Perpetual Group including the Trustee can report any concerns to a Whistleblower Protection Officer or anonymously through our third-party whistle-blower hotline. Training on how to access and report through this grievance mechanism are provided in our employee-wide modern slavery training program.

Measuring the effectiveness of actions
